EASY MONEY ERA IS SEEN FOR NATION

Expansion Forecast for Many Industries Which Have Delayed Action

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT

Reserve Board to Give All Possible Aid to Legitimate Purposes

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1929 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington.—The steady influence of a government that believes economic conditions to be fundamentally sound will be applied at the opportune moment, if necessary, to prevent the psychology of the stock market decline from creeping into the business situation.

The Federal reserve board, the institution which warned the public last February against excessive speculation, is watching the nationwide reaction to the stock market readjustment and just as it was zealous in urging that federal reserve credit not be employed for speculative purposes, so does it stand ready to conserve the nation's credit resources for the normal business expansion of a prosperous country.

Conversely, at a time when money is easy and plentiful, the stock market crash cannot affect business, in the judgment of federal reserve officials, unless a mood of depression seizes the captains of industry—and thus for every evidence brought before them from coast to coast that business men see in the future an era of easy money for legitimate business purposes, something that has usually meant expansion and prosperity.

DELAY-NEW ACTIVITIES

For more than a year investment bankers have been turning down requests of corporations for financing through bond issues because the higher money rate due to speculation in stocks made the offering of bonds unattractive. On the shelves of the investment bankers repose, of course, many such requests which might to themselves be speculative but the truth is a large number of financing operations that the nation normally should have absorbed in the last two years have been held back.

FOUR MEN BADLY HURT IN MILWAUKEE FIRE

Milwaukee.—(AP)—Buried under flaming debris, four men were critically injured last night in a fire which did $10,000 damage to the Melnecke Manufacturing company plant here. A ceiling and wall collapsed on these men.

William Lippold, district fire chief; Edward Belan, 43; Charles Warner, 38; and Herbert Steurwald, 29.

All four men were badly burned and Warner, pinned under a heavy beam, suffered a crushed leg and internal injuries. While firemen used jacks to lift the timber, a doctor gave him first aid.

The four had been ordered from the first floor of the burning building and were leaving when the wall and ceiling fell. Automobiles played their headlights on the ruins as police and firemen searched for the men.

MOSINEE BANK BOOKS AUDITED BY STATE

Madison.—(AP)—C. F. Schwenker, state banking commissioner, yesterday said he was awaiting a report on an audit of the books of the Farmers State Bank of Mosinee, reported to have disclosed an embezzlement of more than $20,000 by one of its officials.

Despite reputed restitution made by relatives of the official, Commissioner Schwenker said the official would have to stand trial if embezzlement was indicated.

See Body In Lake, Search Is Renewed

A report that a body had been seen floating in Lake Winnebago near Menasha, late yesterday afternoon today spurred the efforts of several searching parties seeking the bodies of Edmund Bolton and Carleton Roth, 19-year-old Lawrence college sophomores believed to have drowned more than a week ago.

The report was made to the Menasha police by Louis Pawer, who with his mother, Mrs. Emma Pawer and sister, Mrs. Westberg, were fishing on the lake when they sighted the body. An attempt was made to reach the body but the rough water and swiftly-falling darkness prevented them from reaching it.

As soon as they landed they reported the matter to the police and early Thursday morning Mr. Pawer and Frank Clark, acting under orders from James Lyman, Menasha police chief, set out on a search of the lake for the body. Another party of fraternity brothers of the missing boys also instituted another search. This party was led by Don Christensen, Howard Pope and Irving Jackola.

Rough waters however, prevented the searching parties from going far out into the lake.

Pawer said the body he saw was upright in the water as if weighted heavily at the feet. He said it appeared to be fitted with a hunting coat.

It is known that Bolton was wearing a hunting coat with brass buttons. Both boys were equipped with hip boots.

The two young men disappeared late Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 22, after they set out on the lake in a boat, without oars, after a duck which they had shot. The boys started their ill-fated trip from the shore near Waverly beach. When last seen they were two or three miles out on the lake and the water was rough with a heavy wind offshore. The boat was found nearly 24 miles later near Pelee's, about 25 miles from the place where the boys entered the water.

ITALY'S KING SOON TO PAY VISIT TO POPE

Vatican City.—(AP)—King Victor Emmanuel's long awaited visit to Pope Pius, the first that a king of Italy has made to the Vatican since papal loss of temporal power in 1870, will take place in the first fortnight of November, the correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia said today.

The visit will be of a private character, the king motoring to the Vatican instead of using the gala coaches of state.

Pope Pius is expected to return the visit in January, going to the "Villa Savola," private residence of the royal family on the outskirts of Rome. This call will also be of a private nature.

The original plan was for a solemn royal procession from the Quirinal to the Vatican, with cuirassiers and outriders and all the princes and princesses of the house of Savoy accompanying the king and queen.

ARREST IS HINTED IN SLAYING OF TRAPPER

Superior.—(AP)—Armed with the information that Omar O'Connell, trapper, was shot from behind as he walked his lines in southern Douglas co., authorities indicated they would make an arrest today.

It first had been thought O'Connell was killed by a moonshiner firing from a nearby hill. Investigation brought from Basil Fall of Foxboro, Wis., the statement that he had only a knife when his friend, whom he accompanied, was slain. Whether anyone else was with the pair has not been determined.

ROCKEFELLER REPEATS ROLE IN STOCK MARKET

New York.—(AP)—When John D. Rockefeller, Sr. came to the rescue of a widely fluctuating stock market yesterday with orders to buy, he repeated a role he played 22 years ago.

On Oct. 23, 1907, during one of the severest panics in the market's history, he issued a statement expressing confidence and began to buy sound common stocks. His action, taken a day previous to the formation of a $25,000,000 pool by J. Pierpont Morgan, had a stabilizing effect on the market.

BLAME LIGHTED FAG FROM PLANE FOR FIRE

Rice Lake.—(AP)—Some airplane pilot who threw his lighted cigarette overboard while flying over Rice Lake is blamed for the recent roof fire at the home of the Rev. Theodore Steltner here. Insurance adjusters gave that as the probable cause for the blaze after Mrs. Steltner said an airplane flew directly over the house shortly before the fire.

MARKET AGAIN SWAMPED BY ORDER FLOOD

Scores of Issues Climb $5 to $95 and Fall Back Near Close

New York.—(AP)—Heavy profit-taking halted a wild stampede of buying in today's stock market after scores of issues had been named up $5 to $30 a share, and gains of $75 and $95 a share had been registered by a couple of high-priced specialties. Losses from the high levels ranged from $2 to $12 in most of the popular shades. Trading was conducted at a furious rate, sales from noon, when the market opened to 1:30 p. m., totaling 4,472,400 shares.

The tickers of both the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Market were running nearly an hour behind the market at 2 o'clock p. m. While most stocks were then selling below the high levels recorded in the early outburst of buying, the majority were quoted well above yesterday's closing quotations.

The tickers rallied in spectacular fashion at the opening, which had been delayed two hours to give harassed brokerage employees an opportunity to rest. Scores of issues showed initial gains of $1 to $12 a share, with several large blocks changing hands. Some of the large opening transactions were:

- 50,000 shares Commercial Solvents 40 up $3.
- 40,000 shares Consolidated Gas 11 1/2 up 19 1/2.
- 30,000 shares Radio 5 1/4 up 5 1/4.
- 30,000 shares National Dairy Products 63 up 13 1/4.
- 25,000 shares General Foods 50 1/2 up 12 1/2.
- 20,000 shares Westinghouse Electric 157 1/2 up 13.
- 15,000 shares Columbia Graphophone 31 1/2 up 5 1/2.
- 15,000 shares Kennecott Copper 78 up 3 1/2.
- 10,000 shares Columbia Gas 83 1/2 up 11 1/2.
- 10,000 shares International Nickel 41 up 3.

Johns-Manville quickly ran up $12 a share, Southern Railway $11, American Telephone $9, and Anaconda Copper $8. Scores of other issues moved up $2 to $5 a share in the first outburst of buying.

On the New York Curb market, Cities Service, Common opened with a block of 70,000 shares at $44, up $12.

SPECTACULAR OPENING

Opening gains, in many cases, were even more spectacular than the declines in the bad reactions of the past week.

So great was the accumulation of overnight orders, as a result of reports that America's most powerful financial forces, headed by the J. P. Morgan and Rockefeller interests, had definitely checked the wave of hysterical selling, that specialists on the floor were required to bunch them and wait several minutes before they could settle on fair opening prices.

Odd lot houses, which handle the accounts of small customers, reported that they had never seen such an army of "bargain hunters" looking for cheap stocks of high grade investment merit. Investment trusts and wealthy individuals also were reported to be in the market on a large scale.

Favorable dividend announcements continued to come from large corporations to inspire confidence. Directors of the Consolidated Gas Company raised the annual dividend from $3 to $4 today, and directors of the Standard Oil company of Indiana announced an extra payment of 2 cents.

The initial outburst of buying attracted profit-taking on the part of traders who had bought stocks in the last few days for a "turn," and part of the gains were lost.

On the curb exchange, utility and oil stocks were tossed up in startling fashion. Humble oil shot up $42.75 to $112. Standard Power and Light $77 to $160.

BUYING IN CHICAGO

Chicago.—(AP)—A flood of buying orders swamped the Chicago Stock Exchange at its delayed opening today with prices generally higher. Among the first in deals was a block of 10,000 shares of Continental Chicago which opened at 74, a 12 point gain. Another block of 15,000 shares of Chicago Corporation changed hands at 25, up 3 1/2. Bendix opened strong at 42 1/2, up 8 1/2. Cities Service likewise was stronger, opening at 35 3/4, up from 32.

Hoover Asks Early Disposal Of Tariff Bill Schedules

Washington.—(AP)—A statement was issued at the White House today explaining that President Hoover in a conference with senate leaders last night urged the expedition and early completion of the schedules in the tariff bill so the revenue measure could be sent to a conference with the house within two weeks.

The text of the statement follows:

"The president was visited yesterday by a number of senators, all of whom called at their own suggestions, and presented to him the grave situation that has arisen by delays in tariff legislation.

"They called attention to the fact that the senate has had the tariff bill since June, with 15 schedules to work out, and has not yet completed schedule one. It was pointed out

Driver Faces Court After Death Crash

George Naumann, 29, Rhinelander, was arraigned in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg yesterday on a charge of manslaughter and preliminary hearing of the case was set for Nov. 18. He furnished $1,000 bonds.

Naumann was arrested as he was released from St. Elizabeth hospital where he had been confined for about 10 days from injuries suffered in the automobile accident at Leppla's Corners Sunday, Oct. 20, when Albert Glock, 60, Weyauwega, and his two-month-old grandchild were killed.

The Rhinelander man, it is charged, failed to stop for the arterial highway, and collided with a car driven by Matt Hartske, 33, Weyauwega, father of the baby which was killed. Hartske and Mrs. Glock are in the hospital with injuries. Mrs. Hartske was uninjured. Naumann suffered a broken shoulder and severe cuts on his head.

Naumann was driving north on Highway 26 and Hartske was driving toward Appleton on Highway 10 when the crash occurred. Miss Elsie Moritz, Rhinelander, and Naumann's infant child were in the car with him but were not hurt. Hartske's car tipped over after the crash, instantly killing the baby. Mr. Glock died a few minutes after he was taken from the wreckage.

SEEK IDENTITY OF MAN SLAIN BY DETECTIVE

Waukegan, Ill.—(AP)—Soo line detectives today expect to identify the body of a man shot and killed by A. W. DeGroot, special agent, Tuesday night at Lake Villa, Ill., when the officer caught the man and a companion, Johnny Reed, ex-convict, attempting to rob a box car. Reed was wounded by the agent and is in a local hospital.

Reed attained notoriety two years ago when he acted as informer at Joliet prison to prevent the attempted prison delivery by Mike Evans. Evans, friend of two men serving a long term for robbery, entered the prison in the garb of a priest and carried guns under his robes. Reed knew of the planned coupe and informed the warden. Mike later confessed the crime for which his friends were serving time—a bank robbery at Chenoa, Ill.—and is now in prison.

GRID PLAYER FATALLY INJURED AT PRACTICE

Stevens Point.—(AP)—A kick in the stomach received during a football scrimmage two days ago proved fatal to Chester Smith, 19-year-old third year student at Central State Teachers' college here who died last night.

Smith collapsed several hours after receiving the injury and died from poisoning which followed a perforation of the stomach.

The student's death plunged the entire student body into gloom and college authorities cancelled a football game with Plattville Teachers' college which had been scheduled for tomorrow. Smith, whose home is in Pittsville, Wis., was a substitute on the team.

King Of Extortionists Is Killed At Chicago

Chicago.—(AP)—Rocco Maglio, called "The Scourge," died today from bullet wounds—one in the head three in the back. Police said he had "got in what was coming to him."

"King of Sicilian Extortionists" was one of the sobriquets of this man whose death came as the climax to observance of his thirty-third birthday anniversary. He had been convicted of murder and arrested for extortion and blackmail. Life was one of the most feared men in "Little Sicily."

The shooting down of Maglio amid the vegetable bins of his father-in-law's grocery last night followed by a few hours the local assassination in another part of town of Mykes Cannavan, known to police as a racketeer. Cannavan was shot and in the process of his wife as he was starting their automobile. The assassin fired five shots and fled. A stranger entered the little grocery and inquired of the clerk if "My friend Maglio" was there. Maglio was called from a rear room. As he stepped forward, the stranger pulled a pistol in Maglio's face, shouted curses at him, and fired.

WISCONSIN DISASTER FAR FROM SOLUTION

Kenosha.—(AP)—A solution to the steamship Wisconsin disaster with its loss of 16 lives was far away today.

Federal Inspector Fred Mene, conducting an inquiry into the wreck and sinking off Kenosha Tuesday morning, voiced the opinion that with the captain dead, the answer to "why did the Wisconsin sink?" likely never would be answered.

The most definite testimony he had was the belief of one officer that water had leaked in somewhere through the coal bunkers. Goodrich line officials and other survivors could offer no help.

From Fred Behl, second mate, he had elicited the statement that, aboard the Wisconsin "could and should" have been saved had the ship been beached on the sandy shore instead of anchoring in a vain hope for a tug.

SAYS HAMILTON SHOT WALTON AFTER SCUFFLE

Weatherford, Tex.—(AP)—The only eye witness to the fatal shooting of Tom Walton, Jr., 21, in his father-in-law's Amarillo law office last May 4, said today that Walton was slain after scuffle with his father-in-law, R. H. Hamilton.

Miss Florence Hendricks, daughter of Harry Hendricks, Hamilton's law partner, testified she was in the office where Walton was slain when Hamilton entered. He asked for Hamilton, and then she saw Hamilton in the door with a gun in his hand.

On cross-examination, Miss Hendricks said she did not see Walton make a move of any sort before he grappled with his father in law and when the first shot was fired.

JONES WANTS COALITION TO WRITE TARIFF

Differences Can Be Settled in Committee, He Says—Hoover Asks Action

Washington.—(AP)—Senator Jones of Washington, acting Republican leader of the senate, said today administration regulars should allow the coalition of Democrats and western Republicans to proceed with the writing of the tariff bill and let the measure go to conference.

Commenting on the White House statement urging the senate to send the measure to conference in two weeks, Jones said that the coalition had demonstrated it had the votes to write the type of bill it desired to measure to conference.

The Washington senator said differences with the house could be settled there.

PLEADS FOR UNITY

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader announced in the senate today that President Hoover wanted the tariff bill passed as soon as possible and urged that all functions approach the subject in a conciliatory manner to see that it is done.

Watson, who is preparing to leave for Florida for his health and to relinquish temporarily his leadership to Senator Jones, of Washington, arose at the outset of the senate session and told of a conference he had at the White House last night with the president, which Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, also attended.

"Mr. Hoover, Senator Watson said, is anxious that the tariff bill be passed as part of his special session program which called for farm relief through a marketing act and tariff legislation.

Watson said he had not asked the president if he would sign the tariff bill in its present form or whether he would make any concessions to the Republican Independent-Democratic coalition program. He added he had no idea what Mr. Hoover would do with the measure but insisted the chief executive was "anxious" to have tariff legislation.

"When we finally get this bill into conference with the house, then and then only can we consult with Mr. Hoover on the legislation," he asserted.

Emphasizing his statement by pounding the desk the Republican leader said:

"I think this tariff bill can be passed and I think it ought to be passed."

MANY REPLIES

Watson's speech started a whirl of replies.

Senator Borah of Idaho, a leader of the Independents, said he would be one of the first to expedite the bill by limitation of debate but the "great issue that of restoring agriculture to equality with industry is one that can be settled in no way except in the open and frank discussion of the senate."

Simmons of N. C., ranking Democrat on the finance committee, said "our differences cannot now be compromised." He asserted the Democrats were willing to cooperate in speedy passage of the bill but demanded that the president state his views now and not wait until the measure reached conference.

Borah also said there was "no use talking about not passing a bill." "If there are enough votes to defeat it that is one thing, but to abandon it and refuse to legislate is unthinkable."

"Those who say this bill is killed are wrong," he asserted. "This bill is not killed. It's in the making and the issue presented will not be killed when the final vote comes."

The passenger-freight steamer Wisconsin went down off Kenosha Tuesday last, while bound for Milwaukee from Chicago in a terrific gale. 16 of the 21 aboard were killed and 19 injured.

The loss of men from the Senator's crew today was estimated at 25.

HOLD ANTIGO YOUTH IN AUTO TRAGEDY

Fond du Lac.—(AP)—On the occasion of two truck drivers that he fled from the scene of an auto accident near here early today in which his sweetheart, Ethel Kappel, 19, of this city was burned to death, Milton Warner, 19, of Antigo, is being held at the county jail pending investigation.

Warner was returning from a roadhouse with the girl when his car skidded and two trucks, overturned in a ditch and burst into flames.

The truck drivers stopped and pulled the girl from the burning automobile. Her clothing was aflame and she was either dead when taken out or died a few moments later. The truck drivers said Warner stood near the burning car for a few minutes without attempting to rescue the girl and then disappeared.

Warner was arrested later at the home of his employer here. He said he had run to town to notify the sheriff but on questioning he admitted hiding in a ditch when he saw cars approaching.

Warner admitted purchasing a pint of liquor at Fond du Lac before going to the roadhouse.

The accident occurred on highway 41, south of here, at what is known as "Hamilton hill." Warner denied he was driving faster than 50 miles an hour.

NYE PROPOSES SPECIAL PROBE OF STOCK MARKET

Washington.—(AP)—A resolution was introduced in the senate today by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, proposing appointment of a special committee to investigate speculative operations on all stock exchanges.

The resolution says the speculative operations of the stock exchanges "threaten the stability and integrity of the entire industrial life of the country," and "it is necessary that legislation be enacted to regulate purely speculative operations in the securities representing the physical equipment of the industrial structure of the nation."

The resolution went over for future consideration as required by senate rules, without any discussion.

It would have the special committee recommend remedial legislation by next February. Another resolution by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, advocating a sweeping investigation of the credit situation is now before the senate banking committee with little prospect of consideration before the regular session in December.

Coastguardsmen, under Captain William Kincadee, and four tugs left Milwaukee harbor for the scene.

At 11:20 a. m., the Marquette wireless that she was listing badly.

Four fishing tugs from Port Washington, also put out to join the rescue fleet. In view of the dense fog, one of the worst that has enveloped the lake in years, it was thought the various rescue boats would have difficulty in locating the Marquette. The Marquette is an ore carrier.

The Senator was owned by the Fontana Steamship company of Cleveland.

Word from Port Washington said that blasts of a fog horn coming from the south just offshore could be plainly heard at 1:30. It was presumed they came from the Marquette as she proceeded southward toward Milwaukee. The fog was so thick the last could not have been seen.

MANY SEEKING JOBS "Y" BUREAU REPORTS

There has been a steady increase in the number of inquiries for employment at the Y. M. C. A. employment bureau during the past week, probably due to the inclement weather, according to Edwin Gerhart, assistant office secretary. During the past two days, seven men and two boys were placed on construction jobs and there is a large waiting list, according to Mr. Gerhart. My Favorite Bible Passage

TODAY'S CHOICE BY GERTRUDE ATHERTON Noted Novelist Ezekiel 27: The wealth and glory of Tyrus and the prophesied fall of that ancient city. The chapter concludes thus: Thy powers have brought thee into great waters: the east wind hath broken thee in the midst of the seas. Thy riches, and thy fair, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the midst of the seas in the day of thy ruin. The suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots. And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land; and shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes, and they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart and bitter wailing. And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, What city is like Tyrus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea? When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise. In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depth of the waters thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall. All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be troubled in their countenance. The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee; thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt be any more.

Bingham's Friends Try To Prevent Censure Action

NORRIS ASKED TO KEEP BACK HIS PROPOSAL

Kirby Tells Probers About His Stand Against Garner of Texas

Washington—(AP)—Friends of Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, intervened today with Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, in an effort to bring about an understanding which would make unnecessary the presentation of a proposed resolution of censure for Bingham.

Senator Norris entered the chamber today prepared to offer a resolution condemning the employment by Bingham of an office of the Connecticut Manufacturers association to assist him in tariff legislation.

Before he could act Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, was seen to confer with the Nebraskaan. Later it was understood that friends of Bingham were carrying to him a proposal that some manner of apology be made for his severe attack upon the senate lobby committee which inquired into his activities.

Senator Norris, meanwhile withheld the resolution.

KIRBY ON STAND

Washington—(AP)—John Henry Kirby, president of the Southern Tariff association, testified before the senate lobby committee today he thought Representative Garner of Texas, the house Democratic leader, should be defeated for congress because of his attitude toward fiscal legislation.

Charles Caraway asked the witness if he knew that J. A. Arnold secretary of the association, and R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman from Texas sought to have C. C. Belcher, who was not identified further, run against Garner.

"No I don't believe that," replied Kirby.

The chairman then said Creager had written Arnold that he believed Belcher could make things "hot" for Garner and was "sorry we could not get Belcher into this district". Kirby said he knew nothing about this.

"Does it come as a surprise to you to know that Arnold has attempted to join an alliance with the Republicans to defeat Democrats?" Caraway asked.

"I think some of them ought to be defeated," he said, "on account of their tariff views."

Kirby then named Garner as one he thought should be beaten.

BLAINE QUESTIONS

Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, asked Kirby what Arnold's position is with the national council of state legislatures.

"He has no official position," Kirby replied.

"You might as well tell us for we will worm it out of you," Blaine said.

"I am not withholding anything and I resent the insinuation," Kirby retorted.

"You are not being candid and you are withholding facts," Blaine accused.

"I am not," returned Kirby.

The witness said Arnold occasionally acted as a helper and had issued a call for a meeting in Washington soon.

"Now you are being candid," Blaine said producing a letter dated Oct. 29 bearing Kirby's signature.

"Did you authorize that signature?" Caraway asked.

"I don't know what the letter is," Kirby looked at the signature and said it appeared to be a facsimile of his signature.

"Did you authorize it?" Blaine asked.

"I'd have to read it," the witness said.

Blaine then read the letter which was a call for the meeting of the national council of state legislatures in Washington in December. "That's authorized," Kirby said.

Blaine then asked if Arnold was chief director of the American Taxpayers league and Kirby said he was.

"The Southern Tariff association and American Taxpayers league have their offices in the same location in Washington, don't they?" Kirby inquired.

Kirby said they did and that the rent was "ditched," adding he had nothing to do with the tax payers league.

The witness said the Tariff asso-

NEED "MORE WHOOPEE" IN CHURCHES, CLAIM

Chicago—(AP)—John Gulliken, treasurer, told the American Federation of Lutheran Brotherhoods in biennial convention yesterday, that "more whoopee" is needed in the church.

"The average church," he said, "needs pep and a certain amount of restrained whoopee, under proper supervision, to make it attractive to the young people."

OSHKOSH ROTARY CLUB HEARS HELLIG

Appleton Man Warns Groups Must Render Public Service or Perish

Those who live unto themselves shall die and those who give unto others shall live, Herb Hellig, director of Appleton vocational school told Oshkosh Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon Monday noon.

And if Rotary clubs deteriorate into "kiss and fork" clubs and members talk about the weather and the latest football results, neglecting to render a service to the community, they are bound to pass out of existence, he warned.

Life is not absolutely a survival of the fittest, Mr. Hellig declared, but rather one based upon service. He pointed out that back in dark ages mastodons failed to help their own kind and the animal perished. Then he cited ants, which always help, and which have increased in great numbers.

And getting closer to every day life, the speaker asked: "Why do we enshrine mother in a place above all others? Because she has caught the idea of thinking of others rather than self. It is more than sentiment; it is a fact."

BLIND MAY NOW HEAR BOOKS

Scientists of Europe are much interested in the possibility of printed letters being interpreted in the form of sounds by a new device called the "Vistograph." It is expected to especially aid the blind. The machine is based on the characteristics of the selenium cell. A book is held in a mechanical holder and a tiny electrically-generated ray is projected upon the page and moved along at the will of the operator. When the light rays, on the white paper an electric current flows through the apparatus, causing a buzzing to be emitted by a loud speaker. When the ray strikes the black type the current ceases. By means of pantograph attachment to the ray the reader is able to hear the alternating silences and buzzing and thus "feel out" the shapes of each letter.

An old law of Japan ruled that if a dog barked at night, the owner was to be arrested and sentenced to work for a fixed time for the neighbors whose slumbers the dog had disturbed.

Will the taxpayers league contribute?" Blaine asked.

They might.

Kirby said the treasurer of the legislative association was Tom Hill of Pine Bluff, Ark., and the witness was asked to get from him for the committee a statement of receipts and expenditures.

NEED REPRESENTATIVES

Caraway asked if Arnold's duty in Washington was to see members of congress and to try to "fix up legislation."

"I think some one ought to present our views," he answered, adding that he approved Senator Bingham's action in employing Charles L. Evanson to aid him in tariff matters.

"I thought Bingham's explanation was honorable and fine and I approved his action in getting help from a trade association," Kirby said.

Senator Robinson, Republican Indiana, asked if he approved hiring a man from an association who continued to receive his salary to help a senator.

"I am approving of members of congress getting technical information from those who know," replied Kirby.

Blaine then read the letter which was a call for the meeting of the national council of state legislatures in Washington in December. "That's authorized," Kirby said.

Blaine then asked if Arnold was chief director of the American Taxpayers league and Kirby said he was.

"The Southern Tariff association and American Taxpayers league have their offices in the same location in Washington, don't they?" Kirby inquired.

Kirby said they did and that the rent was "ditched," adding he had nothing to do with the tax payers league.

BLUE KEY TO AID AILING STUDENTS

Fraternity to raise fund for Those Needing Help During Illness

Students so unfortunate as to spend part of their school days in hospitals, and those who lose relatives at home, will henceforth be remembered by their fellow students at Lawrence college, following a decision of Blue Key, campus service fraternity, at Russell Sage hall Wednesday evening.

The fraternity enthusiastically endorsed a suggestion that a collection be taken from the student body, the money to be used in remembering relatives of students who have met with misfortune, and students who have lost their parents. Ross Cannon, president of Blue Key, and two other members will serve as a committee to line up arrangements.

Plans indicate that a collection will be taken in student convocation, with the fraternity requesting that each student give ten cents to the fund. With the $75 or more thus raised, students who have met with misfortune can be properly taken care of.

Blue Key fraternity also revised its point system at yesterday's meeting, prior to its annual fall elections which will be held at the next meeting.

The postponement was approved because of the dedication of Lawrence college new gymnasium next Monday, and because the Roosevelt P. T. A. had secured F. E. Here Runs the Bride

The way young people rush into matrimony these days! . . . Ten times a bridesmaid and finally a bride—all in one year—here you catch a fleeting glimpse of Miss Elizabeth Nancy, society debutante at her own wedding in Berke, England. The groom, W. M. Mount, son of Sir William and Lady Mount, is pictured coming in second best in the race to the altar. It was one of the most important weddings of the year in British titled society—and certainly the fastest.

Drink Wine For Long Life And Martial Happiness

BY MINOTT SAUNDERS

Paris—"Moderate wine drinking promotes longevity, conjugal fidelity and induces marital happiness."

With this slogan the 1270 inhabitants of the village of Saint Julien-Beycheville, in the Gironde district, will hold a remarkable celebration on Sept. 8 in honor of 14 couples of the town who have been married over periods extending from 50 to 63 years.

A feature of the festivities will be a banquet, wisely moistened by choice Medoc vintages, for which the region is famous, and in their proud sobriety the good people propose to send a challenge to the Anti-Saloon league in the United States to produce a village of water drinkers with a record to equal that of Saint Julien-Beycheville.

The villagers support the longevity claim by figures which show that of the 1270 inhabitants, 369 are over 60, 170 over 70, 48 over 80 and three over 90 years of age. Every body in the village drinks wine, and proud of it. After a solemn high mass in St. Julien's church, a parade will be held, including the 14 couples that have celebrated their golden wedding, followed by their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, "all habitual but moderate drinkers of wine."

"Our oldest folk drink wine to the brink of the grave and our little children drink it almost from the cradle," said the mayor, while planning the festivities. "Where in prohibition America is there a town of our size that can equal our record? In our rejoinders we are going to issue a challenge and give the Anti-Saloon league of the United States something to think about. Here we believe that temperance, equally removed from prohibition and alcoholism, is the secret of health and longevity."

Less pleasant statistics of the social life of France have been revealed about the same time by Henry Montbrun, writing in Paris-Solir. He says that "4,000 French women are reported to be annually missing and that 2,000 young women disappear annually without leaving the slightest trace behind them."

Attention has been drawn to the long list of women registered as missing by an appeal broadcasted by the police in their effort to identify the body of an armless woman found floating in a sack in the Marne. The crime was shocking, but even more startling was the long line of men and women who visited the morgue, claiming to have "lost a loved one and fearful of identifying the victim as their own."

Mr. Montbrun, who made an exhaustive study of police and hospital records of the past 10 years, reported that only 50 percent cases wherein women have been reported as missing have ever been brought anywhere near a solution.

"For every girl who disappears there is a family waiting in anguish for news of her," he writes. "The special bureau at police headquarters for the handling of such cases is crowded from morning till night with aged fathers and mothers of frantic lovers."

ALL ARE NOT TRAGEDIES

M. Montbrun points out that a large number of such disappearances are not necessarily tragic. He groups the missing as wives who have run away from their husbands, young girls who want to live their own lives, accident victims who are never identified, women who are restless and are ashamed to let their families know, women who lose their memories and go into asylums, women who are hiding from blackmailers and those who just vanish without any apparent reason.

"Of the girls and young wives who disappear any are swallowed up by the night life of Paris or become victims of white slave traffic," M. Montbrun concludes. "The aimless pathway of many of these girls leads to the Seine. The real tragedy is that half of the women who disappear are young women who are never heard from again."

SNOW AND COLDER IS FRIDAY PREDICTION

Rain changing to snow is the weatherman's offering for this vicinity for the next 24 hours. Similar predictions have been circulated throughout the middlewest. Snow was reported in the upper lake regions Wednesday night.

The mercury is due for a decided drop Thursday night, but will probably rise a few degrees by Friday morning. Winds are shifting in the southwest, promising a change in weather conditions soon.

At 6 o'clock Thursday morning the mercury registered 33 degrees above zero, while at noon the thermometer stood at 43.

Movie Owners Take Stand Against Federal Control

Memphis, Tenn.—(AP)—The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America went into the final day of its tenth annual convention today definitely aligned against the bill introduced in congress by Senator Brookhart of Iowa, to place the cinema industry under federal control.

Election of officers and the hearing of motions from the floor was the principal business of the closing session. M. A. Lightman of Memphis and Little Rock, Ark., was considered likely to be elected president. Regional vice presidents and a new board of directors also were to be named.

The record of the convention showed that owners of the smaller theatres had been relieved of approximately $1,300,000 in obligations through a voluntary rewriting of contracts by the film producers.

Contract revisions were agreed to by a committee of producers headed by Sidney R. Kent, general manager of the Paramount-Famous-Lasky corporation, in response to representations made to will H. Hays as president of the producers and distributors organization by the independent exhibitors.

Mr. Kent in advising the convention formally of the action taken by the producers said other contracts would be revamped within the next six weeks effecting a further saving of about $200,000 in film rentals. The rewriting of the contracts was agreed to, it was explained to stabilize the economic condition of those of the smaller theatre owners who, it was feared, had taken on excessive commitments with the advent of the sound picture.

C. C. Pettijohn, general counsel for the motion picture producers and distributors, speaking on censorship, told the theatre men that improvements "must come from the public and the industry and not from censors."

Kenosha Honors Men Who Took Part In Rescue Work

Kenosha—(AP)—Kenosha, through its chamber of commerce, will pay honor Monday night to the coast-guardsmen and fishermen who aided in the rescue of passengers and crew from the wrecked steamer Wisconsin.

The men will be guests of honor at a banquet and will be given gold medals or watch fobs, as well as a testimonial of appreciation, it was announced today.

Souvenir hunters threatened today to leave little of the lifeboats and wreckage which floated ashore from the Wisconsin. Crowds were on the beach three miles south carrying away bits of wood and parts of boats as souvenirs. One man, it was said, even tried to carry off a whole boat.

Joking and telling stories, the Wisconsin crew passed the time on the deck of its sinking ship while waiting for rescue. Tony Tillman, an officer from Saginaw, Mich., told in the federal investigation yesterday how the men spent their time "kidding, joking and telling stories."

REPLACE WRECKED SHIP

Milwaukee—(AP)—The Brainbridge, recently acquired by the Goodrich Transit company from a Boston Harbor firm, replaced the Wisconsin which sank Tuesday morning in a lake storm and last night made its initial north bound trip on the Chicago-Milwaukee run. The ship, of steel construction and smaller than the 1,900 ton Wisconsin, has been on the east shore fruit run.

Charles L. Dunlop, general agent of the Goodrich Transit company, yesterday expressed belief that a body picked up after the steamer Wisconsin sank off Kenosha Tuesday was wrongly identified as that of Joseph Metz, deckhand.

The bulk of the Wisconsin, may be dynamited to remove it as a navigational menace. The United States engineer's office moved today to determine the correctness of a report the ship was in only 55 feet of water.

LAKE VESSEL SINKS AFTER COLLISION

Cleveland—(AP)—The steamer Marquette owned by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company of Cleveland was under command of Captain W. S. Ansberry. She had a gross tonnage of 7,200 tons. James Cox was chief engineer.

The radio operator here said the Marquette was in a "wobbly condition" and was in need of assistance. The steamship J. J. Sullivan, three hours from the scene of the collision, sent word it was rushing to aid the Marquette and the radio operator here said, "First guard crews from Sheboygan, Port Washington and Milwaukee all were hurrying to the disabled Marquette."

The names of the captains of the two boats which collided were not immediately available.

The report received by the Cleveland concern said that two men from the Senator's estimated crew of 27 had been saved and that others would be taken aboard the Marquette soon. The report said that a life saving crew from the Sheboygan station was on its way to the scene of the wreck.

According to the report received here the Marquette was still afloat, but had water in the hold. The collision, officials said, occurred about 20 miles off Port Washington.

The Marquette, with a tonnage of 7,200, carried a crew of 27 men. The Senator was in charge of Captain George Kluch and had a tonnage of 4,048 tons. She was owned by the Nicholson Universal Steamship company of Detroit.

BOYS HARI KARI ATTACKED

Japanese newspapers have taken sides over the recent attempted suicide of two school boys after hearing a fervid account by their teachers of the bravery of Kusunoki Masashige, who 700 years ago espoused the cause of the Emperor when Japan was in the throes of civil war and when defeated by the rebels committed stress on the heroism which caused Masashige to court death by his own hands, and this aroused the two lads that they decided to emulate his brave "Masashige" and attempted hard hard with a penknife. While some newspapers said that the attempt was an act of patriotism, others have taken the view that to praise such weakening of the mind would be encouraging suicide.

"GIN" AND "IT" COATS SHOWN

With the return of the cocktail coat to favor in London have appeared the "It" and the "Gin" coats. The "It" is a rather fiery red and beige lame, while the "Gin," as one fashion expert puts it, is "carried out in black and white."

RUSS FLIERS STILL DOWN

Detroit—(AP)—The Russian plane, Land of the Soviets, was held at the Ford airport again today because of unsatisfactory flying conditions. The flight to New York, which had been originally planned for yesterday, was postponed. It was announced that the plane probably would take off for New York tomorrow.

Boys the friendship of other boys also aids in development of boys."

N. B. Belanger, the council executive, bore a address to the group before the meeting got under way. Herb Hellig, chairman of the course, also spoke a few minutes. Discussions of the phases of work were held after the talks.

SCOUTING IS A TRUE FORM OF EDUCATION

"It develops the boy from within with the adult or leader as the guide. Boys can best be led by the personal leadership expressed in the scout master. Boys of scout age are hero worshippers, and scout masters should set themselves up as an example."

"The ideals expressed through the scout law, oath and uniform and the thought of doing a good turn daily, also are means of educating boys. The significance of the various steps should be fully explained to boys, and habits built up by repetition with emphasis placed on pleasurable results derived."

"The outdoor activity or scouting is another means of directing boy energy along the right channels. All boys are victims of wanderlust now and then and weekend hikes, over night camps and other similar activities satisfy the urge. Outdoor activity also brings health to boys and teaches them self reliance when they break away from immediate contact with home life. It also teaches them to give and take as they compete in games and battle nature's elements."

"Progressive systems of tests of the organization also help develop a boy. He passes tests to obtain honors in phases of scoutcraft, each test being on a subject that helps build character and habit. They also teach the boy self reliance and self mastery. Learning by doing it is an integral part of the system of tests and honors."

"The patrol system in scouting which satisfies the boy's urge to 'gang' together, a system whereby he is criticized for his wrong doings and corrected for his errors, yet enterfered left about 2:30 a. m. and returned within an hour.

The point was brought out that if the Butterfield had gone to the rescue immediately it is highly probable that all members of the crew would have been saved. The captain of the tug testified he returned because his boat had three feet of water in the bilges. Capt. Menlo seized upon this testimony to express his belief that if such was the case the matter called for a special inquiry. The tug is used to tow steamers into the harbor during the heavy seas.

Capt. Olander, upon questioning from the inspector, said there was no liquor aboard his coast guarder boats that might have been used as stimulants for the victims of the disaster who had suffered from exposure. Capt. Menlo expressed the opinion that liquor should be kept aboard for such emergencies.

Capt. William E. Franklin, superintendent of the Goodrich Transit company, operators of the Wisconsin, testified the ship was probably the last seen by the line. He said it was seaworthy.

Threat Rumor Brought Up In Lake Disaster Inquiry

Kenosha—(AP)—Testimony regarding rumors that the crew of the tug Butterfield threatened to "tie down" its Captain unless he turned back to port instead of going to the rescue of the crew aboard the steamer Wisconsin last Tuesday, was given at a federal inquiry into the sinking of the ship by Capt. John A. Olander of the Racine coast guard here today.

Capt. Fred A. Meno, federal marine inspector, conducting the inquiry, said the investigation of the disaster which claimed at least 10 men had ended here, but that it would be pursued further in Chicago.

Capt. Olander was the main witness today. He testified he received the distress call at 2 o'clock a. m. and shortly afterward asked the captain of the Butterfield to put out to rescue. The latter, the witness said, refused to go until he notified the owners of the tug. The witness said his wife had been posted as lookout and that she said the But-

Former Zimmerman Aid Scores Him At Inquiry

Madison—(AP)—Legislative investigators, digging into practices during the 1924, 1926 and 1928 campaigns, had a rich load of information to work on today.

Only a few hours of questioning revealed enough to make the inquiry one of the most sensational in recent years.

Attracting the most attention was the statement that former Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman was a "fix" and that he had failed to "deliver" a promised appointment. Frank Starck of Madison, who aided the former governor in his campaign, linked with these assertions testimony that he visited priests and nuns in Zimmerman's interest, then found out he was a Klan member.

Hardly second in interest was the testimony of three prominent Progressives, two of them state officers, Secretary of State Theodore Dammann, Attorney General John W. Reynolds and Fred M. Wyle, campaign manager for Senator Blaine, that the latter ran for attorney

TELLS TEACHERS HOW TO HELP STUDENTS

Wichita, Kan. (AP)—Four fundamental things should be studied and dealt with in the transition of the high school pupil to the college student, Miss Lucile R. Briggs, president of Milwaukee (Wis.) Downer college today told the high school section of the Kansas State Teachers' convention.

She listed them as:
High school teachers should not recommend pupils who cannot do college work successful. "Elimination of these will do much to simplify the problems of helping the freshmen class to get started right," she said.

The high school can help by urging pupils who know that they intend to go to college to follow a program of solid work in a limited number of solid subjects rather than allowing pupils to scatter energies over many.

"I would also urge that wherever it is possible there should be independence in method of work in the senior year," she said.

The fourth principle of the transitory stage would be the requirement of a solid background in certain fundamental subjects.

COMMITTEES TELL OF PROGRESS IN FESTIVAL PLANS

Groups Report Public Is Showing Considerable Enthusiasm for Event

Good progress is being made by all committees in their individual preparations for the Historical Farm festival to be staged at the Armory on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 12 and 13, according to reports of chairmen at a general committee meeting at the Appleton Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

George E. Johnson, general chairman of the festival, presided at the meeting.

The chairman of the committees which are arranging the reproduction of College-ave in 1850 reported that they are having some trouble in getting ideas to be used in constructing their booths and Chairman Johnson issued a call to the general public to get in touch with the chairman of the various groups if they have any ideas. The committeemen pointed out that they could use pictures of the avenue in the early days if there are any available.

Under present plans there will be reproductions of an old time drug store, grocery store, printing shop, style shop, furniture store and barber shop. Attics and cellars are being ransacked to furnish material to be used in these exhibits, the committee heads said.

The greatest enthusiasm is being encountered throughout the city.
Chairman Johnson said, by everyone who has heard of the show.
Voluntary offers to help have been pouring in and hundreds of phone calls and letters have been received asking for information as to the type of exhibits which are wanted for the show.

A. G. Meating, chairman of the entertainment committee, reported that plans for the program were going rapidly ahead. Groups from several sections of the county have already agreed to present their features of the program and the old time fiddlers' contest is assured.

There are to be two complete shows presented each evening at 7 o'clock and at 9 o'clock under present plans.
Mr. Meating said. The shows will last an hour and a half. Different shows will be presented each evening so that there will be an inducement to have crowds attend both nights.
Gus Sell, county agent, and Miss Harriet Thompson, county club leader, who are in charge of the grain and home economics exhibits, reported that from present indications there will be a fine varied exhibit in both groups. They both reported that rural organizations throughout the county are showing an unusual amount of interest in the fair and are seeking a chance to take part in it.

THE FACTS ABOUT CITY MANAGER GOVERNMENT

With the campaign to adopt the city manager form of government for Appleton definitely underway, the voters soon will be seeking information concerning this method of operating a municipality. While city manager government is not new by any means, not many people have had the opportunity to give it the study necessary to arrive at an intelligent conclusion concerning its merits.

The Post-Crescent has been observing city manager government in numerous cities of the size and wealth of Appleton and is so impressed with the excellent records that have been made and the universal satisfaction expressed by citizens of those cities that it heartily indorses the movement to adopt that form of municipal control for Appleton.

This newspaper believes it to be part of its duty to help provide information on which its readers can base intelligent judgment of public questions and following its usual policy it will publish a great deal of accurate information about the city manager form of government. Only recently a member of the editorial staff of The Post-Crescent visited a number of city manager governed cities in Wisconsin and other states to obtain first hand information from residents of those cities and from their municipal records. The result of these investigations will be placed before the readers of The Post-Crescent and other data concerning the manager form of government will be printed.

Following its well-known policy the columns of this newspaper will be open for public discussion of the issues in this campaign. The Post-Crescent invites questions about the manager form of government and an effort will be made to answer them promptly and correctly.

The Post-Crescent believes that if the people will inform themselves about the manager form of government and its record in other cities they will support the movement to adopt it for Appleton. Their study of the plan and its record must convince them that it is a businesslike method of operating a municipal corporation and that business in city affairs results in material tax savings and more value for money that is spent.

THE POSTOFFICE SITE
News dispatches from Washington yesterday stated that a property on North Superior Street has been recommended to the United States treasury department by Postoffice Site Inspector L. H. Blanton as a site for the new postoffice to be erected here. The Post-Crescent indorses this recommendation.

We believe the best interests of the largest number of Appleton people will be best served if the treasury department will accept Mr. Blanton's suggestion. This location is near the geographical and business centers of Appleton.

The relatively rapid growth of Appleton toward the west and north has been apparent for a number of years, both as to business and to residences. The business section cannot grow far east on College avenue because of the college property, while residential expansion toward the east is halted by the two cemeteries and to some extent by the river. On the other hand there are no obstacles to expansion of business and development of residential sections to the north and west; and the tendency toward growth in those directions has been quite pronounced in recent years.

Mr. Blanton's recommendation, it seems to us, has taken cognizance of these conditions. The location he recommended is all the more desirable in the light of the city's future needs. The site recommended by Mr. Blanton should prove central and convenient for many years to come.

While The Post-Crescent has not indorsed any specific site for the new postoffice, we think that a location on Superior street is the best that could be obtained at any price.

TARIFF-MAKING
The already badly discredited tariff bill is further compromised by the revelations involving Senator Bingham of Connecticut. Although the New England representative of manufacturers attempted to defend himself in the senate he does not seem to have made a favorable impression. Perhaps senators were shying at their own shadows. After Mr. Bingham had made his speech of explanation, Senator Caraway, chairman of the lobby investigating committee, replying, requested that if there was a regular Republican on the floor who approved of what the Connecticut senator had done to stand up and say so, but no one arose. It was evident from this incident and the reception of Mr. Bingham's speech that the senate was at least chagrined at the revelations concerning its methods of tariff making. It might not be shocked but it was a little shame-faced.

The facts concerning Senator Bingham are that he had an employee of the Connecticut Manufacturers association on his personal payroll and the payroll of the government, having brought him to Washington to "assist" him in handling tariff revision. Furthermore, this representative of the Connecticut manufacturers was placed in a position to gain inside information touching proposed changes in rates, and Senator Bingham admits that he was "helpful" in securing changes, so helpful in fact that they obtained increases for 45 out of the 52 leading industries of the state.

While we are not as much surprised at this information concerning the inner workings of tariff making as Mr. Blaine and others on the investigating committee pretend to be, it is of course indefensible. It shows the trail that leads from the offices of special interests to the secret doors of congress, but it is only a part of the "system." It is a mere incident in the general manipulation and log rolling that take place whenever a tariff measure is up for consideration. There is the most flagrant lobbying both direct and indirect. Large sums are spent in entertaining congressmen and senators and in other ways to enlist their goodwill and sympathy. Highly influential politicians bore in from the outside, campaign contributors are on hand to present their claims. In brief, there is a general rendezvous of privilege, special interests and their political allies to get all that can be gotten while the getting is good. Furthermore, all the senators, Blaine included, represent special interests of their respective states.

It is in precisely such an atmosphere that a tariff bill is finally evolved, and only a child would be so naive as to assume that the environment was not an important factor in the final results. The Bingham affair is nothing to get excited about for it is only a symptom of what is constantly going on at Washington. The investigating committee will have to uncover a good deal more than that before it will induce congress to mend its way or so shock the country as to cause it to visit its resentment upon congress. If it helps to wreck the tariff bill, or to compel its restriction to agricultural schedules only, it will be productive of specific good.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK
New York—On a side street just west of Broadway there stands a combined storage and warehouse, and second-hand store.

One day in the effects of a stranded vaudeville act the proprietor found a sign proclaiming:—
BARGAIN SALE IN HUSBANDS.

A bit of a wag, he put it in his window. Immediately curious passers-by stopped to stare and then to investigate. Many remained to buy the household goods displayed within. What they found was probably more useful than a second-hand husband, anyway.

That was 20 years ago. As the days and years went by the sign lost none of its allure. The original did become illegible, but the proprietor had another printed. He still is using it in lieu of other advertising.

SPECIALTY
A gem authority reports there are only three first rate diamond cleavers in America and two of these are in New York, where they command incomes above that of college presidents.

The diamond cleaver, as his name indicates, is one who splits rough diamonds into subdivisions ready for the polisher. A real journeyman, he goes from one large diamond polishing plant to another.

A diamond in the rough is usually a large, irregular stone which can't be polished or cut until it's divided into several pieces. Before the cleaving, it is carefully examined by experts who decide the most economical way of utilizing its precious weight.

Then the cleaver comes in. First, with the aid of another diamond, he makes a notch at exactly the right point in order to split the stone without shattering it. Then the stone is mounted firmly with the notch uppermost and here the cleaver's skill comes into play.

Placing the metal wedge in the notch he strikes it with a single swift blow of a mallet. It is only the work of a moment, but an error of judgement or lack of skill may easily mean the loss of thousands of dollars.

The services of the master journeyman are in such demand, especially before Christmas, that their time is charged far in advance. They tour the diamond cutting works, spending only a few minutes perhaps in each to strike the all important blow, the preliminary work having been done by less skillful hands.

AROMAS
Miss Helen Keller, who makes three senses do the work of five, asserts that Fifth avenue has a different odor from any other part of New York or elsewhere.

"Indeed," she writes in "Midstream," "it is a very odorous street. It may sound like a joke to say that it has an aristocratic smell; but it has, nevertheless. As I walk along its even pavements, I recognize expensive perfumes, powders, creams, choice flowers and pleasant exhalations from the houses."

And mentioning perfumes, Capt. Edward Molyneux, Paris Couturier and perfumer, is in New York with an idea for a man's scent, something clean and hygienic smelling and masculine, probably like a mixture of soap, Scotch tweed and heather. A natural outcome, no doubt, of the current vogue of pretty underwear for what was formerly the sterner sex.

Today's Anniversary
NEVADA JOINS UNION
On Oct. 31, 1864, Nevada was admitted to the Union.

An election had been held in 1863, for delegates to form a state constitution, but the instrument submitted was defeated in January 1864.

However, the political situation made two additional Republican votes in the United States Senate exceedingly desirable and Congress in March, 1864, again passed an enabling act. The constitution was accepted in July and the state was admitted to the union Oct. 31.

Nevada is popularly known as the Sagebrush state and is one of the Pacific coast group. It ranks sixth in area in the United States with 110,690 square miles.

Today also is the anniversary of the completion of the international bridge across the Niagara river at Buffalo in 1873.

A BOOK MAKER LOOKS AT THE HEALTH COLUMN
Our noble profession has just cause and provocation for looking askance at popular medicine, almanac pathology, newspaper science, and doctor book lore. But nowadays the almanac has little weight in popular education, and we regular doctors are administering a reasonable share, oh, say one-half of the newspaper medical science, and if we are one-half right at all we ought to make some of the people think some of the time.

Here is a paragraph from the chapter on emotional conflicts in Dr. William S. Sadler's "The Mind at Mischief" (Funk & Wagnalls Co.). "Too bad we can't take the people who are careless and indifferent—happy go lucky folks who are digging their graves," as it were, with their teeth—and teach them how to postpone their funerals without having them go to the other extreme and fall into the doctor's hands, sick and depressed, all because of a health complex! Too bad we can't think enough about our stomachs to avoid serious indigestion without, at the same time, thinking so much about the digestion as ultimately to bring on nervous dyspepsia!"

Clumsily worded, but an epigram I must recommend for application to the epigastrum in many cases of stomach trouble.

In another part of the book, discussing worries, dreams and obsessions, Dr. Sadler observes that—"Many hypochondriacs fear diseases. They are constantly inventing new diseases, and it is only necessary that they find a new almanac, read the health column of the daily paper, or get hold of some of our modern health books, in order to be able to dig up half a dozen new ailments."

I wonder what newspaper health column this busy book maker has in mind. Just to stimulate ingenuity I offer a copy of Dr. Sadler's book "The Mind at Mischief" to any reader who will submit evidence that my health column caters to the hypochondriac population in that way.

I might fairly retort, what a lot of folks who are well educated in everything but physiology manage to keep tolerably happy until they get hold of one of these new psychology books.

Dr. Sadler's "The Mind at Mischief" deals with tricks and deceptions of the subconscious and how to cope with them. It is unlike the general run of popular psychology books in its refreshing freedom from the quasi-scientific, guff, and features most of these books. Here's an instance of what I mean. Discussing the fear complex Dr. Sadler says:—"We are well on the road to success when we can make a joke out of the whole experience (say stage fright). The other day I had to appeal to a patient by saying: 'What would you think of a fool fireman who responded to an alarm which he knew to be false, and insisted on hooking up all the fire apparatus and squirting water all over the place? That is exactly what you do.'"

And I axe you, fellow victims of stage fright, isn't it the truth? After a while, in some cases a long while, one lets the alarm ring, grins foolishly and waits for the fire to burn itself out. What's the sense in getting all het up about it?"

FLASHES FROM HOLLYWOOD

BY ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood—Ireland, traditional home of fairies and elves, still must have them flitting around to work wonders for colic and bantering Irish lads.

Else how could Maureen O'Sullivan and her new "playmate," Thomas Clifford, be in Hollywood today? Maureen, just turned 18, and Tommy, all of 11, and as cocky and independent a lad as ever walked on Dublin streets, were brought back by the John McCormack Company for the tenor's first talkie, recordings of which were filmed and recorded in Ireland.

The two, on their first day in the celluloid city, were like children suddenly awakened to find themselves in Wonderland. Maureen, long movie-struck but rejected in amateur theatricals, back home, had found her dreams come suddenly, amazingly true.

Tommy, not movie-struck, but just a map-printer's son with a brogue as thick as butter, was selected largely by reason of that brogue from a group of Dublin school boys.

Maureen, soft-voiced, shining-eyed, was enjoying a wonderful experience. "Tommy, just a regular kid, was on a lark and making the most of it."

INNOCENTS
"What do you want most to see in Hollywood?" they were asked. "John Garfield!" breathed Maureen, who had not then met her "romantic lead" for the picture.

"Everything!" brooded Tommy self-assuredly, as though he knew her world.

There are two things unusual, besides herself, about Maureen: she did not meet the star, McCormack, until he arrived in Hollywood, although during their work in Ireland she "saw him from a distance," and although she is an Irish girl, she has an English accent acquired by education on the mother side, so that she will have to cultivate a brogue for her role.

The daughter of Charles O'Sullivan, a retired major of the Connaught Rangers, Maureen was dining at a fashionable Dublin resort when she was "spotted" by a cameraman, and invited to take a test for the role she is to play.

She waited three days for the test, but it was worth it: it brought her to Hollywood. And she is seeing the things she knows already, by heart, from the movie magazines.

ABOUT THE STUDIOS
Noah Beery, sinister villain of many silent and talking pictures, will be seen—or rather heard—in a new light in "Song of the Flame," for he again will use the baritone, which served him in stage days, and Hollywood seems to be setting fire to things in large way, what with that "Song" and "The Sacred Flame," and "The White Flame." The last-named will have a cast composed entirely of men... The setting is submarine... Barbara Stanwyck and Sam Hardy are co-stars in "Mexicali Rose"... another Rio Grande talkie...

PAN OUR TALKIES
London—One English newspaper has taken an unfavorable stand against American "talkie" movies. These are influencing the talk of English children, the paper says. "Talk in youthful circles today is of 'jocks,' 'sinks,' 'sims,' 'sams,' and 'dumbbells.' The effect of these talkies is already reflected in the conversation of children, and in many instances of grownups," the paper says.

Talks To Parents

NOT CRIMINAL
BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE
One of the most valuable aspects of the new approach in the rearing of children lies in the way it has taught us to look upon offenses which are ranked as the graver social delinquencies.

Today the enlightened mother who catches her child in a lie or a theft or in some form of forbidden sex interest no longer thinks that she is afflicted with a degenerate offspring. She knows that her child has done nothing extraordinary. She knows that most children do lie and steal and follow some form of sexual preoccupation before they are grown. She knows that most of the mothers in her neighborhood, if they would but admit it, have problems quite similar to hers.

This means that instead of parental hysterics, scenes and moral lecturing, a saner attitude is brought to bear upon any existing problem. The mother who is freed of the nightmare of moral turpitude in her children is able to use her intelligence more effectively and to apply such knowledge as is available. No longer overcome by the fact that her child has stolen, a mother can direct her energies to finding why he did it and through removing the causes prevent a repetition of the act.

The relief that parents feel when they discover that their children's misbehavior does not mean that they are young criminals to be saved from the burning by drastic measures does much to help them meet their problems wisely; for a cheerful positive attitude on the part of parents is essential in making the child change his conduct for the better.

Nation Honored Admiral Dewey Just 30 Years Ago

Admiral Dewey came home 30 years ago, and the nation gave him an ovation which was to stand unmatched in popular enthusiasm until Charles A. Lindbergh returned after his flight to Paris.

The hero of Manila bay, tears streaming down his cheeks at the tribute of songs sung by school children, was cheered by 2,000,000 people as he rode up Broadway and Riverside drive, New York, in a parade of 35,000 sailors, soldiers and civilians.

Other great figures of the period shared in the tribute that sparkling autumn day as an eventful century

Justice Is Not Blind!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Justice is no longer dispensed by ignorant and individual domination. Another ancient prejudice stands convicted by AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE which insists that a jury "twelve good men, tried and true" decide the facts.

"toasting did it" —

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Per. Capita Circulation Is Placed at $6.75 by Treasury

Washington, D. C.—Official treasury department estimates are that there is approximately $6.75 in coin circulation for every person in the United States. The value of outstanding coin of all denominations, exclusive of the metal reserve held by the treasury and banks or security for gold and silver certificates, is placed at $809,912,774.

The establishment of the Philadelphia mint in 1793, the government has coined 158,843,556 double eagles ($20 gold pieces); 52,811, 35 eagles ($10 gold pieces); 72,249,
69 half eagles ($5 gold pieces); 19, 78,833 quarter eagles ($2.50 gold pieces); 846,593,947 standard silver dollars; 458,001,670 half dollars;
2,106,376 quarter dollars; $1,315,395, 60 dimes; 1,447,143,760 nickels, and 378,237,400 pennies.

NINE ARE DISCOUNTED
In addition to these coins, nine others of varying values were formerly in circulation, but were discontinued, owing to the confusion which resulted from their similarity in size and color. The discontinued pieces were the old $3 and $1 pieces, the silver trade dollar, twenty-cent half-dime and three-cent pieces, the nickel three-cent piece and the bronze two-cent and half-cent pieces. All of them, except the trade dollar, are still legal tender at their original value.

During recent years, the practice of commemorating some important event by the issuance of a special coin has been adopted by the government. The highest coin in this category is a $50 gold piece, issued in commemoration of the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, in 1915. In 1918 a coin known as the Illinois centennial silver half-dollar was authorized and issued as a memorial of the 100th anniversary of the admission of Illinois to the union; including the regular pieces and the commemorative coins, the government has issued about 1,347 coins of different design since the beginning of governmental coinage.

GOLD, SILVER COPPER USED Gold, silver, and copper are the principal metals used by the United States in the coinage of money. Gold and silver coins are composed of 900 parts of pure gold or silver and 100 parts of copper alloy. The five cent piece contains 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel, and the one cent piece 95 per cent copper and 5 per cent tin and zinc. The alloy neither adds to nor detracts from the value of the coin.

There are seven kinds of currency in circulation in the United States:
United States notes, treasury notes of 1890, federal reserve notes, federal reserve bank notes, national bank notes, gold certificates, and silver certificates.

These are issued in denominations of one, two, five, ten, twenty, fifty, hundred, five hundred, thousand, five thousand, and ten thousand dollars.

ONE DOLLAR BILLS LEAD
Including all kinds of currency, there are, according to the latest figures, 467,192,735 one dollar bills, 32, 47,297 two dollar bills, 182,101,699 five dollar bills, 135,049,934 ten dollar bills, 21,945,833 twenty dollar bills, 5,618,268 fifty dollar bills, 3,198, 64 hundred dollar bills, 116,644 five hundred dollar bills, 153,008 thousand dollar bills, 5,860 five thousand dollar bills, and 1,067 ten thousand dollar bills in circulation in the United States at present.

NURSE FOR HER
ARMENIAN WORK

Leninakan, Soviet Armenia —(AP)—
Twelve thousand children in the American Near-East Orphanages here wept for three days recently when they learned that Miss Janet Mc-Kay, Red Cross nurse in charge of the institutions, was leaving for her home in New Haven, Conn. It was no consolation to the children to know that the Armenian soviet government at last was ready to take over the care which for ten years had been given them by Miss Mc-Kay.

No name is brighter in the relief work of the little land where Noah's Ark grounded, than that of Miss McKay's. One of the streets of this city has been named for her and when she was guest of honor at a farewell dinner, every department of the government was represented.
Speakers from all walks of life lauded her self-sacrificing labors.

Miss McKay served in the World war and was three times cited by the American Red Cross and the French government for conspicuous services. She intends to spend only a few months in the United States then to engage in medical relief work in Albania.

MANX WANT TAILLESS CATS
Worried over losing a distinction to encourage the raising of bob-tailed cats by offering attractive prizes

The Algoma group won the spring honors in Winnebago and again will be represented. Another meeting is to be held Saturday evening at the county agent's office at Oshkosh. Dates for the county elimination contests will be selected. The Winnebago contests will be held during the last part of December, the state meet the first week in February at Madison.

There were 26 Winnebago county young people at the state fair. The group carried off $126 in prize money, the boys taking the largest share of the awards for calf club exhibits. The girls won prizes for sewing and cooking exhibits.

The 149 exhibits by 4-H club members at the Winnebago fair drew a premium list of $391, which is larger than the appropriation for teaching the boys and girls better farming and to better their living conditions. Donations were received from various sources to further the work of the clubs. Among the banks to donate were the three at Neenah. The Neenah Businessmen's club also contributed. Individuals to contribute were S. F. Shattuck and Mrs. Roy Babcock of Neenah. The Rotary club gave a dinner at which the receipts totaled $40.20, which was turned over to the fund.

FARMERS TO SUPPORT COOPERATIVE POLICY

Washington—(AP)—Convinced that its best work can be done only when American farmers become "cooperative conscious," the federal farm board has initiated steps to educate the nation to a definite national policy.

Federal and state extension forces and land grant colleges and universities have been brought into the program.

They will support the educational movement by training men in the colleges of agriculture in sound cooperative marketing leadership.

Through the college extension army of county agents, the proper information can be carried to the farmers, to aid them in organizing new associations and in improving old ones so that their program of marketing will fit into the national commodity-selling plan.

Expert station experts will be used to make studies in marketing just as has been done in improving production.

Leaders believe that competing co-operatives should get together and eliminate the features that keep colleges from actively supporting them.

They say the country needs a national agricultural policy to guide colleges in their efforts to aid farmers through cooperative marketing instruction.

When the colleges are united on a program of instruction in cooperative marketing, there is little doubt that farmers will support it.

4 SOUTHERN SCHOOLS WILL OPEN NEW STADIA

Atlanta—(AP)—Four southern universities dedicate stadia in October, with intersectional football tilts opening three of the new athletic plants.

Alabama and Duke led the procession. Each opened new football stands October 6.

Georgia will dedicate its new plant with the Yale invasion October 12.

Oglethorpe university of Atlanta will formally open its new playing field October 26 with the Dayton college eleven of Dayton, O., as the attraction.

The Duke stadium, seating 35,000, is the largest in the south. Georgia's new monument to football is almost as huge.

"UNIDENTIFIED" ADS. DRAW CROWDS TO STORE

Boston—(AP)—A large Boston store recently used hundreds of columns of newspaper space to advertise a single sale. The advertising matter in one issue of a single newspaper filled 13 pages. The store was not mentioned.

Apparently the deliberate omission of the name of the firm did not hurt the drawing power of the advertisements, for customers filled the store from early morning until late in the evening.

The secret of the success of these unidentified advertisements lay in the distinctive style of advertising always employed by the store. So well associated are the store and its advertising in the public mind that many read the advertisements without noticing that the advertiser's name was not mentioned.

AMERICAN ACTRESS IN LONDON SLAPS DRAMATIC CRITIC

London—(AP)—Lillian Foster, American actress, has answered in original and striking manner the complaints of all her American stardom against adverse British theatrical criticism.

The Daily News said today that Miss Foster yesterday saw Hannei Swaffer, dramatic critic of the Sunday Express, in the luncheon room of the Savoy hotel and slapped him in answer to his recent critical remarks of her role in "Conscience," which has just opened here.

The writer had likened Miss Foster's voice to that of a ventriloquist's doll, taking exception to her American accent. Noticing him in the luncheon room of the Savoy, Miss Foster walked up to his table and asked if he knew who she was.

He answered "no," whereupon she mentioned her name and added: "I am going to repay in an American woman's way the compliments you paid me." She then slapped his face twice and told him if he continued to say "such uncalculated things" she would slap him again.

"I was surprised at my own calmness," Swaffer told the News. "A man like myself is always open to this sort of thing. I regard the assault as an attempt to gain publicity. I called the headwaiter and said 'throw this woman out.' This was done."

One of the witnesses was quoted as saying two waiters led the actress to the door.

Self-Defense Is Plea Of Officer In Dry Slaying

Chandler, Okla.—(AP)—Stating his fate entirely on his own story of the slaying of an Oklahoma farmer, killed during a Fourth of July liquor raid, Jeff Harris, 65-year-old dry raider, today was prepared to continue his story, under the fire of cross examination, in his trial on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Oscar Lowery.

Admitting he fired the shot which ended Lowery's life, Harris declared half a dozen times during his testimony yesterday: "I shot to save my life."

In his testimony Harris challenged stories of prosecution witnesses that Lowery was killed as he walked unarmed from the house into which the raiders had pursued James Harris, brother-in-law of Lowery, who also was slain during the raid, and attacked the death bed statement of Lowery, signed a short time before he died in a Shawnee hospital.

The raider told jurors he fired at Lowery after his face had been raked by a charge of buckshot from a shotgun, while blood filled his eyes and he was deafened, temporarily, by the shot.

Brushing aside proffered testimony of other witnesses, Jeff Harris took the stand, intimating that he would be the only defense witness to testify.

The prosecution called 11 witnesses to testify, in rapid-fire order, yesterday, then rested, with a startling abruptness at 4:40 p. m.

A few minutes later the dry agent began his story, relating events leading up to the raid.

Under questioning of his counsel, Harris told of approaching two men and a woman at the James Harris farm, telling them "we're federal officers and want to look around," and of searching a chicken coop.

He then charged back toward the porch, he said, from which the three persons had disappeared.

"Did anything attract your attention?" he was asked.

"First thing I saw was a gun barrel stuck out of a door."

NATURE TAUGHT TO GROW TWO KINDS OF NICOTINE

State College, Pa.—(AP)—Cigarette makers have appealed to nature to produce tobacco with less nicotine.

The appeal is found to be surprisingly effective in a series of experiments by Pennsylvania State college and the United States department of agriculture.

Differences in soils and fertilizers produce all the way from more than two per cent nicotine in tobacco plants down to less than one per cent. The university has not raised the low nicotine plant in commercial quantities, but has found a cross variety with only 1.25 per cent in nicotine.

The object is to raise both extremes, tobacco with little nicotine for smokers, and plants highly poisonous with nicotine for making preparations to kill insects.

Successful reindeer raising in Alaska has inspired northern Canadians to contract for a herd of 3,000 to be driven from the American territory.

"Did that gun go off?"
"Yes sir—it struck me here, and here, and here."
As he spoke, Harris indicated his right eye, his right ear, and the right side of his face. Then, he continued, he saw "this fellow with a gun, and this other one too"—with his gun pointing at him.

"Why did you shoot?" his counsel asked.

"To save my life."
"With that statement Harris closed his case. The prosecution immediately opened up a rapid fire cross examination, which had resulted only in the statement that the raiders had found "nothing to indicate that (James) Harris and Lowery were bootleggers," when court was adjourned for the day.

MISS MARTHA DYGART, Mgr.

MME. LITVINOFF'S WRITINGS AROUSE BERLIN REDS' IRE

Newspaper Suggests Foreign Officer Divorce Wife for Publishing Article

Berlin —(AP)—The Communist newspaper, "Rote Fahne," believe that Comrade Maxim Litvinoff, acting commissar of foreign affairs of the Soviet Union, should divorce his wife because she committed what Berlin soviet sympathizers consider a grave error in writing a decidedly bourgeois article in the democratic "Berliner Tageblatt."

Ivy Litvinoff's article, "Berlin as Seen By a Visitor," the "Rote Fahne" holds, gives evidence of far too great sympathies for bourgeois life. This, the organ considers sufficient ground for Comrade Litvinoff to instigate divorce proceedings and take unto himself one whose ideals are more in line with those of her husband.

"From a cafe Unter Den Linden I saw handsome young men pass swiftly in automobiles of the size of an overgrown bug," Mme. Litvinoff wrote. "Then one sees enormous automobiles 'de luxe' through the windows of which one can see beautiful women in gorgeous furs or genial captains of finance."

"Berliners have time to sit in cafe, to read newspapers, imbibe coffee and to flirt with every passing good-looking woman."

To this the "Rote Fahne" counters:

"Apparently, Mme. Litvinoff never heard that not all Berliners have time to read newspapers in cafes, nor is she well informed when she says that all Berliners notice and flirt with every passing woman. There are several hundreds of thousands of Berliners who wear no moccasins, own no saddle horse and are not in the least swagger. They live in the proletarian quarters, work in factories and have only utter contempt for such observers of city life as Mme. Litvinoff."

FORM ASSOCIATION TO HONOR LEWIS, CLARK

Lewiston, Idaho—(AP)—A national association which would perpetuate the memory of Lewis and Clark, the explorers, has been formed here by representatives of civic and business organizations from Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Montana and North Dakota.

Robert S. Serb of Lewiston, who has long worked for recognition of the work of the two explorers, was elected president by 100 delegates attending.

The association pledged itself to create a national highway from St. Louis to Astoria, over the approximate route followed by the two trail blazers early in the nineteenth century. The directors, were empowered to extend the proposed route of the highway to New Orleans, but in case that is not done, sentiment of the meeting was that it should be extended to Tennessee, where Captain Meriwether Lewis, head of the expedition, is buried.

"TIGER" MUSKIE IS CAUGHT AT WAUPACA

Waupaca—(AP)—What is believed to be the first "tiger" muskungee ever caught in Waupaca. Chain O' Lakes was "hooked" this week by John Peterson of the Wisconsin Veterans' Home.

The fish, weighing seven pounds, was liberated after examination by several sportsmen. The tiger muskie gets his name from the tiger-like stripes encircling his body.

KONJOLA ENDS SEVEN YEARS OF SUFFERING

Stomach and Kidney Troubles Are Quickly Routed When New Medicine Gets Its Chance.

MRS. F. DONISTHORPE

"I suffered for the last seven years from a severe case of stomach trouble," says Mrs. F. Donisthorpe, 114 East Avenue, W., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. "Indigestion and gas followed every meal and my heart palpitated wildly. Then, too, my kidneys caused considerable trouble, and rheumatism settled in my limbs."

"I decided to try Konjola and I was not disappointed in this new medicine. Kidney trouble disappeared and I can sleep the whole night through. My stomach trouble has been corrected and never causes me any more distress. I always have an appetite. Rheumatism vanished and I am never bothered with the pain in my limbs any more. I am thankful for the wonderful relief Konjola brought me."

Konjola is sold in Appleton at Schmitz Bros. Drug Store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Sourdoughs Find Buried Fortune In Ruins Of Ghost Mining Town

In an old cabin (above) two old time prospectors made a "strike" uncovering $5,000 worth of gold coins (lower right) in the "ghost" town of Aurora, Nev. Lower left shows the ruins of the town today.

Yerington, Nev.—(AP)—Aurora, one of the west's "ghost" towns whose streets once echoed to the tramp of sturdoughs and plodding burros, again has yielded "pay dirt."

Not from the earth that men probed hopefully in quest of riches in a bygone era of the golden west, but in the ruins of an old adobe building was a small fortune recovered.

Buried treasure—$5,000 worth of $20 gold pieces—was there, stained with blood and lying unmolested for 65 years to become, strangely enough a "strike" for two old prospectors—Wallace Dowell and James Handel.

It was chance that brought an unexpected change in the fortunes of the men, two of the fast disappearing type of prospectors who followed the trails over mountain and desert.

In an ancient motor vehicle which they nursed along—one driving, the other holding the clutch, Dowell and Handel stopped one day recently in the shadow of the crumbling walls of Aurora, 60 miles east of here, seeking relief from the desert heat.

The desolate picture which greeted the prospectors as they paused for their slacks conveyed nothing of the one time greatness of the village that today lives only in history and legend.

Once Aurora was a roaring town, coveted by both California and Nevada and finally marked on the map of the latter after a federal survey established its claim. It was "bad" even in an era when civic virtue was at low ebb among the boomtowns of the youthful west.

Then came the rebellion against the dominance of the lawless element in February, 1864. The law abiding organized a vigilante committee, seized the armory and established order after arresting the sheriff, his deputies and four desperadoes whom they hanged.

It was concerning that cleanup that a story about Governor Nye of Nevada is told. Hearing of the excitement he telegraphed Samuel Young, then a county commissioner, warning that no violence must be done. Back went the laconic reply: "All quiet and orderly. Four men will be hung in half an hour."

And if one of the legends about the town can be credited, it was amid the ruins of the home of one of the departed highwaymen that Dowell and Handel rested.

Like countless numbers before them, the two began a search for hidden loot, but with far greater success. Below the floor under a pile of adobe bricks, they found an old fashioned strong box.

The wooden lining was ripped away and a shower of $20 gold pieces rolled out. They were dated from 1852 to 1868—contemporaneous with the stirring days of two-state control and vigilante law.

PALACE SERVANTS SOCIETY SEASON OPENS IN LONDON

Queen Assures Employees of Annual Holiday Events at Buckingham

London —(AP)—The royal social season is on in the servants' quarters back of Buckingham Palace. In the little community living on the Palace Mews, members of the Palace household staff are polishing up the ballroom floor in an old stable, brushing up dinner jackets, and sewing spangles on evening frocks.

For social events in the royal household are not confined to the imposing state rooms of the palace. The queen, who takes a personal interest in every member of her staff, sees to it that holidays come with regularity and that recreation is not lacking for those who live in the Mews. This year the king's illness has given the servants even more time for play.

The king issued a very imposing royal decree setting aside the stable as a ballroom and concert hall. One of the coachmen rigged up a stage fitted with footlights and spotlights.

The dancing season officially opened in September and will continue until May, when the regular two-week's vacations begin. The standing orchestra consists of a groom who plays the drums and a coachman's daughter who plays the piano. On special occasions other talent is imported.

Preparations are already afoot in the Mews for the Christmas entertainments. The children of the community are earnestly conning their parts for the annual Christmas play which is the high point of the Yuletide festivities.

Queen Mary, when she is in London, takes great interest in the rehearsals and is frequently a member of the little audience that gathers to comment upon the actors' progress.

He filed a petition in circuit court today asking a permanent injunction to restrain an automobile company from operating its huge flasher sign. The sign, Cleveland said, sends out "waves," and the waves are on no definite wave-band. About the time he has a customer convinced as to the selectivity of a radio, the sign crashes through with a static broadcast that ruins reception of his sell-

Waukesha—(AP)—The city council yesterday, in the opinion of one alderman, "did one of the greatest and grandest things ever done by the city of Waukesha." They agreed that trains should not whistle within the city limits. After a verbal battle of no little length between the "whistlers" and the "anti-whistlers" on the council, that body finally accomplished the passing of an ordinance which prohibits trains from sounding Model 53, a larger console, $195 (less tubes)—Model 54, the de luxe console, $225 (less tubes), using the same perfected screen grid chassis. Pacific Coast prices slightly higher.

IN THE HOUSES in which they live . . . in the motor-cars which stand gleaming on their drives . . . the meals they serve in their dining-rooms . . . in short, in all their material possessions their friends discern a certain excellence, a certain discrimination. These are people of good taste. . . There is a radio receiver—the Eveready—which fits in with a life such as theirs, which fits in with a point of view demanding excellence in everything they own. . . Its tone is full, round and agreeable. And because of the “weather-proof” principle incorporated in the new Eveready Radio the reception even on damp, humid nights is remarkably clear and free from distortion.

Its excellence is not a matter of months but many years

But if this were all people of good taste knew about the new Eveready Radio, they would hesitate to buy. Their whole point of view towards life requires that they also look for permanent, as well as momentary, excellence; that they look for the sort of perfection which comes with the ideal of precision building, an ideal which looks into the distant future as well as tomorrow. . . So carefully, so precisely, is this fine instrument built that you may expect, not six months or a year of performance, but five, yes even ten, years of satisfying reception.

You will want this remarkable radio receiver

And so, if you are a person who discriminates in favor of excellence, if your whole attitude towards life looks for effects, not causes, you will want the new Eveready Radio. That is why, when you see it, hear it, notice its beautiful cabinetwork, you will say, “Of course this is the instrument for my household.”

25 STUDENTS SEEK BERTHS ON MANAWA BASKETBALL SQUAD

Practices Start at Slow Pace and Will Increase as Season Nears

Manawa—About 25 candidates for Manawa high school's basketball team turned out for the first practice of the 1929-1930 season, under their new coach, Ralph Rosenheim. Workouts will be held three times a week for a short time, and will then turn into daily practices in an effort to prepare for the Ro-sholt game scheduled for that place November 15.

Prospects are good for a strong quintet with last year's entire team returning intact. Eastling, Walch, Heffling, Lindow, Stebs, Guerin, and Thiel have been working out, together with Morris Peterson, a star two years ago, Strossenreuther, Melklejohn, Rineck, and Handrich, who have all played high school basketball, and a promising bunch of sophomores and freshmen.

New cardinal playing suits were purchased last year, and this year an order has been placed for warm-up suits. The trousers will be red, trimmed with black, and the red shirts will have Manawa in black letters across the front and the design of a wolf head on the back.

The complete schedule for the year follows: Nov. 15, Ro-sholt here; Nov. 22, open; Dec. 4, Ro-sholt here; Dec. 13, Hortonville; Dec. 19, Weyauwega here; Jan. 10, Waupaca here; Jan. 17, Amherst here; Jan. 24, Iola here; Jan. 31, Waupaca here; Feb. 7, Weyauwega here; Feb. 14, Iola here; Feb. 21, Amherst here.

Rebuilding the spillway of the dam across the Little Wolf river in the village of Manawa has been occupying workmen of the Wisconsin Power and Light company for the past month. The old spillway had become unsafe and the possibility existed that it might wash out during high water periods every spring. Consequently, the company decided to expend about $4,000 to improve that condition.

The spillway will now have the capacity to handle about 25 per cent more water than before during flood periods, and practically does away with any possible danger of a dam washout. The work will be completed in another week.

Plans are being made to have the local Lions club charter night on Thursday, Nov. 7, in the high school gymnasium, Manawa. District Governor Frank Burch of Milwaukee will present the charter. Between 200 and 300 Lions and their ladies from Waupaca, Clintonville, New London, Weyauwega, Iola, Shawano, Appleton, and Oshkosh will attend the banquet, program and dance.

How a Family Doctor made Millions of Friends

FIFTEEN years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became one of the best-known members of his profession. A single prescription made him famous. And for forty years it has continued to make friends. As fast as people could tell others about the marvelous way this prescription corrects constipation and relieves other troubles caused by sluggish bowels, demand for it spread until Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it filled in quantities, bottled and distributed through drug stores.

Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people would never think of using anything else when they're headachy, bilious, feverish, or weak; when breath is bad, tongue is coated or they are suffering from nausea, from gas, or lack of appetite, etc.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin as you buy it from your drug store is made in accordance with the original formula from only herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant tasting; its action is thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.

LAW-ST BRIDGE TO BE OPENED SOON TO LIGHT TRAFFIC ONLY

Officers Will Be Posted on Each End to Enforce Speed Law

Kaukauna—Arrangements are being made by Chief of Police R. H. McCarty for reopening the Law-st bridge to light vehicular traffic Friday. Signs will be erected at each end of the bridge. The speed limit over the structure will be 10 miles an hour, and no vehicles over 3,000 pounds will be allowed on it. All heavy traffic will be detoured over the Wisconsin-ave bridge, over which highway $5 is temporarily routed. Police officers will be on duty at each end of the bridge to see that the laws are observed. One officer will be at the corner of Law-st and Wisconsin-ave and the other will be placed at the municipal building at the lower end of the bridge. They will work in two shifts of eight hours each. The bridge will be under the care of the officers for 16 hours a day starting at 6 o'clock in the morning.

The speed limit of 10 miles an hour was recommended by the state highway commission. The bridge was closed to all vehicular traffic for several weeks at the order of the city council after an inspection of the 35 year old bridge was made by an engineer. The old bridge will be used for light traffic until next summer, when a new one will be built. Proposal to construct a new bridge was advanced by the city about two years ago. After several delays a hearing was finally had with the state highway commission. An announcement by the commission Saturday stated that construction of a new bridge will be started next year.

DENTAL CLINICS OPEN NEXT MONTH

Kaukauna—School children will have a chance to have their teeth cared for at a series of dental clinics in the office of the city nurse in the municipal building, starting next month, according to Miss Cell Flynn city nurse.

The clinics will be sponsored by the Kaukauna Woman's club. Each year the woman's club donates money for this purpose. The clinics will be held weekly with local dentists in charge of each. The first clinic will be held in November. They will be continued every Friday afternoon until next May. Each clinic will be from 1:30 to 4:40 in the afternoon.

Miss Flynn will examine the teeth of the children in the public and parochial schools. Those with defective teeth will be advised and cared for by the clinic. Teeth will be extracted and filled. All local dentists will help with the clinic, each taking charge in turn. Those expected to conduct the clinics are Dr. E. C. Hallok, Dr. J. E. Crowe, Dr. E. J. Bolinski and Dr. R. VanEllis.

A series of 14 clinics were held last spring, but about twice as many will be conducted this year. A large number of the school children were found to have defective teeth. Most of these were cared for at the clinics. Those unable to be treated will be treated this time.

Larger, Mechanized Farm May Solve Crop Problem

BY FRANK J. WELLER
Farm Editor
(Associated Press Feature Service)

Washington — (AP) — General increase in the size of farms and increased use of large labor-saving machinery is a picture drawn by W. J. Spillman as the probable future for five major farm crops.

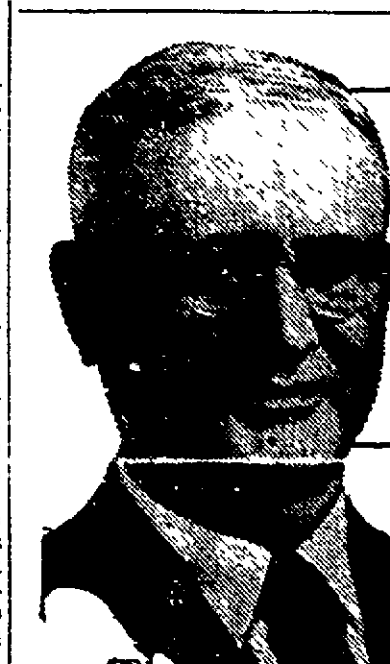

In any one section where practically all farmers may turn from one product to any one of a dozen others when the price of a product they have been producing is not satisfactory, the general prosperity of that area is not seriously threatened. But explains Spillman, principal economist of the department of agriculture, that privilege does not always obtain for the producers of cotton, corn, oats, hay and wheat.

There is a surplus acreage of each commodity. The cotton acreage has expanded from 33,000,000 acres at the beginning of the war to 48,000,000. Wheat went from 53,000,000 acres to 72,000,000 before it dropped back to 58,000,000.

"We cannot remedy the situation for any one of these five major crops by substituting some other crop for it," Spillman says. "To do so would only increase a surplus already existing in the substitute crop."

"There are two general alternatives which have some possibilities. One is to use some means of reducing total crop acreage. The other would be a general increase in the size of farms and increased use of large labor-saving machinery—thus reducing cost of production, which has the same effect as increasing market prices."

Both of these alternatives would require a reduction in the number of farm families and the transfer of a considerable part of the present farm population to other industries. Neither is compatible with theories of rural sociology as expressed by such

SUBMIT PLAN ON CHINESE PROBLEM

Special Courts to Deal With Foreigners Advocated by Columbia Prof

Kyoto, Japan—(AP)—The American delegation to the Institute of Pacific Relations in session here submitted today the plan of Dr. James T. Shotwell, Columbia university professor and author, for adjustment of the extra-territoriality problem in China.

The plan includes establishment by the Chinese as part of their program of judicial reform or, for a period of from five to ten years, special courts to deal with cases involving foreigners.

These courts would be located at Canton, Shanghai, Hankow, Tientsin, Mukden, and perhaps one other city, with at least one appellate court. They would include suitable police and judicial officials which would be thoroughly Chinese as China would appoint "jurists responsible for their administration of these courts."

Choise would be limited to penal experts nominated by the permanent court of international justice at the Hague, or, in the event America does not adhere to the world court statute by a league court of arbitration named selected from lists prepared by the law associations of the countries involved.

SEYMOUR MAN IS STATE DIRECTOR OF EQUITY GROUP

Election Is Announced at Quarterly Convention of County Union

BY W. F. WINNEY
Drephal—The quarterly convention of the Outagamie county union of the American Society of Equity held in Drephal hall Wednesday afternoon, elected Fred Blohm, Seymour, a member of the state equity board of directors, George Schmitt, Greenville, a delegate to the State Equity convention at Portage the first Monday in December, and Frank Riemer, Greenville, a delegate to the meeting of the Equity Livestock Sales association in Milwaukee the last Thursday of January.

The Drephal convention decided to hold the next annual convention at New London at 10 o'clock in the forenoon the last Wednesday in January.

As the outcome of a general discussion, the convention instructed the secretary, Herman Jagnow, town of Cicero, to request the State Equity Society to send an Equity organizer as soon as possible to Outagamie county for work along the line of increasing the membership of locals. For organization work, the state is divided into 10 districts, and the organizers move about from one district to another in response to requests from the districts. As a result of recent activities of the organizers, 1,000 new Equity members have been signed up in Wisconsin. When a state organizer is at work a member of the local goes about with him.

For the reason that the annual convention of the Outagamie county union comes at a time of the year when the highways are apt to be blocked and so close to the annual convention of the state union that it is difficult for delegates to attend both conventions, and for reports of the state convention to be made by the local delegates until they are a year old, the Drephal convention favored setting the date of the annual convention of the Outagamie county union back a month or more. On consulting the constitution, however, it was discovered that an amendment must lay on the table after it is introduced until the next meeting. On account of this obstacle in the way of changing the date of the local convention, action was postponed to a subsequent meeting.

The financial advantages of pooling orders for dairy feeds early in the summer over buying individually late in the fall or winter were set forth by the delegates from the various locals of the county. For instance, bran that now costs $34.00 per ton in carload lots was ordered last summer by some of the locals at $26.50 per ton.

It appeared from discussions at the convention that one of the ways to increase the membership of Equity locals is to tell farmers who are not members the financial advantages of membership.

BADGER POTATOES ARE SENT TO 33 STATES

Wisconsin Rapids—(P)—Wisconsin long talked of as a "dairy state," today could pride itself on being a "potato state" as well.

Speakers before the Wisconsin Potato association meeting being held here explained that Wisconsin ships potatoes to 33 states this year.

From W. H. Ebling of Madison, state crop reporting service, came information that the 1929 production of potatoes is a fourth less than in 1928 due to lesser acreage and dry weather. He gave the estimated number of bushels as 345 million as compared to 400 million last year and placed the reduction in acreage at from 15 to 18 per cent.

An object lesson was offered in the statement that through better agricultural practices, use of fertilizers and better seed potatoes, the increase per acre has grown from 78 bushels in 1900 to 111 in 1929.

J. W. Brann, Madison, state inspection service, said that late blight is less common this year while scab and black scurf are more common due to the dry weather during the growing season. He asked growers to send samples to Madison for inspection and indexing so that only certified seed would be planted next year.

ARMORED VEHICLE FOR ARMY GIVEN APPROVAL

Washington—(P)—The movement to speed up the army through motorization and mechanization advanced another step today with an announcement of the approval of Secretary Good of the purchase of a new type of light-armored vehicle in which experts see much promise.

It is a low, cheap, cross-country machine, intended to transport half of an infantry squad or half of a machine-gun squad with its guns and ammunition, and is to be tested in service with the Thirty-fourth Infantry at Fort Eustis, Va.

The war department plans for the mechanized force, a long-time development undertaken several years ago, listed such a vehicle as one of the most important items needed for various branches of the service. The infantry has for a long time sought some mechanical vehicle which would replace the mule and cart in the transportation of machine guns and special weapons.

The characteristics of the vehicle are its small size, low exposure to hostile guns, light weight and combination of mobility on tracks across country or on the road. It has a capacity of two men and one machine gun and ammunition. A cruising radius of 100 miles and an armor thickness of .55 inches in front and .25 on the sides.

Fond du Lac—(P)—The city council here insists that citizens be careful not to drink an ordinance passed yesterday assessing fines of from $5 to $25 on persons caught drinking water that has not been tested and "certified free from contamination."

Arrested as Kidnapers of 5 Year Old

Three men arrested by Detroit police as the kidnapers of 5-year-old Jackie Thompson, for whose return a ransom of $25,000 was paid by his father, a wealthy Detroit real estate dealer, are shown above. From left to right are Tony Dagaunno, James Fernando and Emil Souave. Officers claim they found $5000 cash in Fernando's pockets when he was arrested. Below is Fernando's home where the kidnapped boy was held prisoner for 24 days. At the left are Police Lieutenant Norval W. Marlett, who with Inspector Robert A. MacPherson recovered Jackie and returned him to his parents. Jackie is shown below the lieutenant.

UTILITY ORDERED TO REDUCE RATES

Wisconsin Public Utilities Must Cut Costs to Consumers $26,000

Madison—(P)—Reductions totalling $26,000 per year for consumers of electricity in West Bend, Burton, and other villages supplied by the Wisconsin public utilities company were announced today in a railroad commission order.

The commission charged the $300 costs of the investigation against the utility, this being one of the few times utilities have been forced to pay expenses of orders cutting their own rates.

The commission found the earning value of the utility to be $743,804 per year and decided that revenues might therefore be reduced $26,000 per year, without too greatly reducing the company's earning value.

After a detailed customer analysis to determine the reduction equitable to each class the commission ordered in force a lighting and combination domestic service rate enabling residential and domestic customers to secure all service through "one meter."

Such service as lighting and incidental use of electric ranges, water heaters, refrigerators, oil burners, and electric blower motors might be combined. Customers in this class will save about $13,000, the commission estimated with power consumers experiencing reduction of about $9,200.

In other decisions the commission authorized H. W. Henning to operate busses between Fond du Lac and Portage via Baraboo as long as he does not interfere with schedules of present busses; authorized the water department of Spring Valley to adjust its rates, slightly upward; dissolved the Northern Wisconsin hydro-electric power company; authorized the Omaha line railroad to eliminate its trains between Hudson and Ellsworth, except between Dec. 15 to such time as the busses can travel and install rates concurrent with the Interstate commerce commission on coke, shipped by the Milwaukee coke and gas company to several small towns in Wisconsin.

Four Railroad Systems Seek Reign In Panhandle

Fort Worth, Tex.—(P)—A 20-year contest for railroad supremacy in the Texas panhandle has reached its climax with four major systems planning to spend $12,000,000 for expansion.

The four roads, which propose to tap an oil field experts say will produce 200,000 barrels daily, as well as unusually productive farm areas, are the Burlington lines, the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe, the St. Louis-San Francisco and the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf.

All have filed their proposed plans with the interstate commerce commission, and a decision is expected by January 1.

Two roads, the Frisco and Rock Island, joint in proposing a thorough route from Fort Worth to Shamrock via Wellington. That would entail an estimated expense of $8,386,000 and purchase of the Gulf, Texas and Western, a 99-mile line, by the Frisco.

The Fort Worth and Denver, a Burlington subsidiary, heretofore supreme in panhandle-to-inner-Texas transportation, opposes the Frisco Rock Island application with a request to build a 53-mile branch line from Childress to Pampa via Wellington and Shamrock. That would cost, about $4,276,000.

The Santa Fe, principal east-west line through the panhandle, makes a third proposal for an 8.7-mile line from Pampa to Lefors, costing $375,000.

Dallas and Fort Worth merchants and millers have testified that new direct routes to the panhandle would facilitate and stimulate business. At present all traffic from the Pampa-Shamrock area must follow indirect routes to reach Fort Worth, Dallas or Texas gulf ports.

MURDER CONFESSION HELD TO BE FALSE

Reading, England—(P)—Police here have decided not to prosecute Joseph Barrett, 45-year-old, ex-convict, for the murder of Alfred Oliver, Reading shopkeeper.

They said they were satisfied he was not guilty despite his confession of the crime at Glasgow, investigation having revealed he is a mental victim of the World war, and previously had confessed other crimes of which he was guiltless.

The University of Paris was founded by King Phillip II about 1200.

SCHNEIDER OFFERS TWO PENSION BILLS

Measures Would Give Aid to DePere Woman and Antigo Man

(Washington Bureau of the Post-Crescent)

Washington—Representative Geo. J. Schneider of Appleton today introduced two pension bills for the benefit of constituents.

Mrs. Samantha Vose, 715 Oak-st., West DePere, will get a pension of $30 a month if congress passes the Schneider bill introduced for her benefit. Mrs. Vose is the widow of Isobel Vose, who served during the Civil war in Company C, 141st New York Volunteer Infantry. Because she and the Civil War veteran were married after 1905, she does not automatically go on the pension list, and can get her pension only by special act of congress.

Charles F. Walker of Antigo will have his $12 pension increased to $30 a month if congress passes the other bill. Walker served in Company F, 16th United States Cavalry, and was on duty at Fort Buford, N. D., from 1884 until 1889, while there was Indian warfare in the vicinity. The War department does not list Fort Buford as in the zone of Indian hostilities, however, and thus Walker cannot obtain a pension or a pension increase except by special act of congress. He was granted the $12 pension by special act in 1921.

Walker claims to have been seriously injured in trying to extinguish a fire at the fort, in which the commandant's wife was burned to death, but has not the supporting evidence necessary to substantiate his claim to the satisfaction of the department. The Pension bureau has granted an increase in the pension of William F. Cronin, now a resident of Karlin, Mo., but formerly of Athelstone, Wis., as a result of Representative

Do You Take Soda for Your STOMACH?

Then Read This:

"I never went out on the road without carrying my soda bottle in my grip," says a traveling salesman. "For years I took from one to five doses of soda a day. I learned of ZINSEP Compound. After taking two bottles, I threw my soda bottle away and have never had any further stomach trouble and now eat things that I never dared to eat before."

Thousands of persons, former habitual sufferers of indigestion, stomach troubles, and the like, have found complete relief from digestive complaints in ZINSEP Compound. The reason is simple: ZINSEP Compound is not just a digestant, like most remedies, but a complete stomach treatment, combining all the elements of an Antacid, Gas Eliminator, Stomachic, Carminative, Gastric Sedative, Internal Anesthetic and gentle Laxative. Being a well-balanced scientific corrective, ZINSEP removes the cause, instead of merely easing temporarily the effect.

A consistent and thorough course of ZINSEP brings you new stomach health. Try it. Buy a bottle today. Your druggist will refund your money if it fails to help you.

NEW SKYSCRAPER IN NEW YORK TO RISE 1,600 FEET

Building Will Dwarf All Other Structures—Plan Landing Field on Roof

BY JOE COPPS
New York — The sky's the limit and a New York office building is going to reach it. It's all very discouraging for those architects who have been commissioned to design "the highest building in the world." For there has been a spirited battle for supremacy of the national skyline, with several cities in competition.

But New York, city of skyscrapers, is going to win and win by such a stupendous margin that its rivals scarcely can have a chance for many years to come. Near the downtown financial district of Manhattan there is to be erected a structure more than twice the height of its long-famous neighbor, the Woolworth building. It will cost about $100,000,000, will cover two city blocks at its base and will shoot 1,600 feet into the heavens.

The Eiffel Tower in Paris, now the tallest structure in the world, will be dwarfed by the giant of steel and stone. So will the new Waldorf Astoria office building, to be erected on the site of the celebrated hotel. At its scheduled height of 1,000 feet, it was to have been the biggest, though closely crowded by structures in Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland.

IT'S ONLY POSSIBLE SITE

A stroke of luck for the promoters has made possible this super-skyscraper. They have been able to gain control of the only property in the city where such an enterprise could be carried out. Structural requirements for a building of such vast proportions make it necessary that two city blocks and the intervening street be spanned. Thomas street, between Broadway and Church-st., the site chosen, is owned not by the city but by New York Hospital and the promoters already hold leases on 150,000 square feet of this street and its bordering property.

The building code of New York requires that the area of a building's tower must not exceed 25 per cent of that of the base. But even with this restriction, the roof will be an acre in area and will be employed as a landing field for airplanes.

HIS CASTLE IN THE AIR

This giant of 150 stories has been the life-long dream of Charles F. Noyes, wealthy real estate developer who has an interest in 40 other large buildings. In this new enterprise he is associated with one of the wealthiest of the tobacco magnates.

"We have determined that the 150-story building is entirely practical of construction and financing," Noyes declared. "We have been working steadily on the project for some time and even this announcement—for our own projects—is somewhat premature."

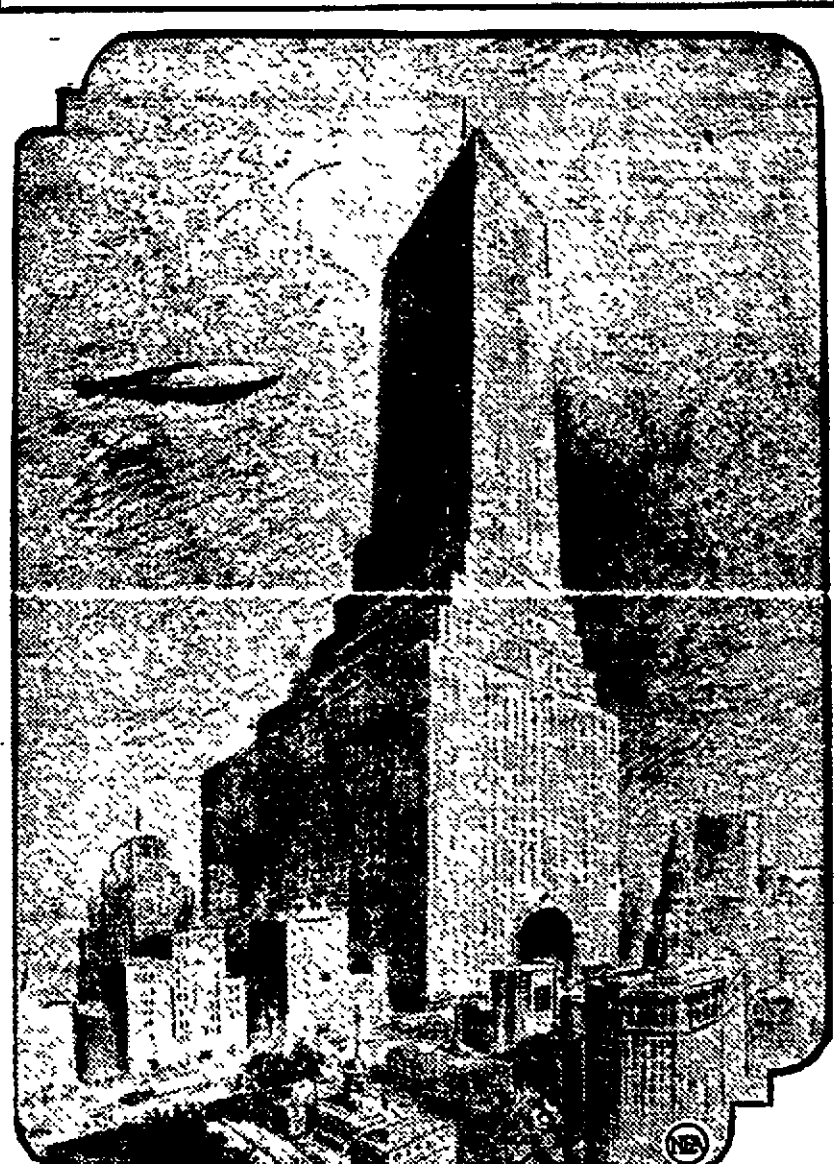

"We have obtained control of the necessary property and have been assured by architects that the whole thing is entirely feasible. It is not definitely financed, but there is no question but that there will be plenty of money available."

PLAN 60 ELEVATORS

Walter W. Ahlslager, who designed the proposed 75-story Chicago tower and several other large buildings in Chicago, now is working on plans for this giant. Tentative plans include 25,000 windows, 60 elevators, some of which will go to the airplane landing on the roof and a tower which will be at least 50 stories in height.

Noyes, now president of a huge real estate concern, has taken a Plan 150-story Building in New York

Above is an artist's conception, based on tentative architectural plans, of the way the 150-story skyscraper will look when it takes its place among today's giant buildings of downtown Manhattan. In the center foreground is the century-old city hall, once the loftiest structure in New York. Charles F. Noyes, one of the builders of the proposed giant, is pictured at the left.

Store interests for $2,400,000 and this with the provision that one-half that amount would be represented in a half interest in the business to be retained by him. He was to continue as president and the bonus system he had installed for his employees was to remain in force.

Harvey Louis Corbett, prominent New York architect and one of the most enthusiastic advocates of great skyscrapers, declared that 150-story buildings are the practical limit for colorful route to success. Born in Norwich, Conn., he sold newspapers as a boy, later expanding his business to obtain a monopoly on sales on Block Island, just across the sound. Although his parents were in comfortable circumstances, he paid his way through college by working as a buyer for dining cars and the Grand Central restaurants. At 20, he opened a small real estate office in partnership with a friend with whom he had played professional football.

TARIFF BILL WILL HIT POOR HARDEST, BUREAU DECLARES

Proposes Higher Duties on Goods Used Chiefly by Poorer People

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Washington Correspondent of the Post-Crescent)

Washington—The pending tariff bill will hit the poor harder than the rich, declares the Rawleigh Tariff bureau in a summary of its investigation of industrial tariffs made public Wednesday.

This bureau, which financed the tariff investigation made by three University of Wisconsin economics professors, John R. Commons, Edg. Perlman, and B. H. Hibbard, continued the investigation under the direction of David J. Lewis, former member of the United States Tariff commission, and Wednesday published its second report.

"It is disclosed," the bureau says, "that the proposed high duties apply to articles which are used almost exclusively by the poorer classes of the population whose living costs will be greatly increased if the pending bill is adopted."

"Typical illustrations of this apparent discrimination between the rich and poor are the rates on men's and boys' clothing, which will materially increase the cost of cheaper grades of apparel without affecting the cost of higher grades."

"The pending bill proposes increased rates on low-priced laces, jewelry, ribbons, handkerchiefs, notions, tinware, glass, china, toilet articles, hardware, and many other lines. Any of the rates call for increases that will, if adopted, increase the cost of articles more than 100 per cent."

But since Noyes controls two blocks and the intervening street, Corbett said the 150-story structure would be entirely practicable.

Raymond Hood, designer of the American Radiator Building in New York, said that he had calculated the theoretical maximum height for a skyscraper, regardless of the amount of space available. It is 7,000 feet.

Construction of Noyes' building, of only 1,600 feet, he declared would be "very simple."

Tells French Army To Rely On Machine Guns

BY T. T. TOPPING
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Paris—(P)—Machine guns; more machine guns and machine guns always.

A smaller army, fewer soldiers, but a compact force of trained men and military officers of career. These are the broad outlines of a plan for the reorganization of the French army published in the "Review of the Living" under the initials "ZZZ," whom every one conversant with French military matters has recognized as one of the high officers in the present army.

Plans for the reorganization of the French army have been numerous recently. It has been officially admitted by the French ministry of war that the French troops need reorganization. At the time of Marshal Foch's death he was busy with Minister of War Painleve and several advisers drawing up a set of reforms. The work is now being continued with General Weygand, Foch's former right hand man, as collaborator to the minister of war. That the French military mind still regards Germany as a possible menace to France was shown by the trend of "ZZZ's" article.

"The experience of the late war has proved that a machine gun barrage is impassable, providing the barrage is assured by one machine gun to every 400 yards," he said. "Reduce our eastern and northern frontier to 350 miles—neglecting to take into consideration those sections of it which are made impenetrable by forests, rivers and canals. Thus we find that 1,500 machine guns are necessary for the establishment of a continuous barrage, requiring 375 squads or 150 companies. In the present state of our organization, 100 machine gun battalions, or 11 divisions, which should be occupying our northern and eastern frontiers. Our present army cannot assure that service."

The writer concluded by asking for the incorporation of a permanent force of 105,000 men and soldiers of "career," to be under arms at all times and by a final plea for more machine guns. The general "ZZZ" was in deadly earnest and may be said to interpret the thoughts of the French general staff.

At Geneva, after the Locarno interviews with Gustav Stresemann of Germany, Aristide Briand, premier of France, was also very much in earnest and translated the feelings of a large majority of the

That high wages are not produced by high tariffs and that generally speaking there is no relations between high wages and high tariff rates are other conclusions reported by the investigators.

Of 41,000,000 persons gainfully employed in the United States, the report declares, a possible 400,000 derive wages benefits from the tariff, while more than 99 per cent derive no benefit and less than one per cent any benefit whatever.

"Less than 3 per cent of the 1,000,000 persons engaged in manufacturing can be shown to receive 'protection' which either maintains or advances their wages," the report asserts.

Higher prices and greater profits are the aims of the tariff-seekers, Rawleigh says, declaring that he could obtain more profits from his manufacturing if there were higher duties.

French nation, when before the League of Nations he made his famous address: "Spike the canon. Destroy the machine guns. The war is over. This is an era of peace."

STOCKS HEAD UPWARD WITH HEAVY BUYING

Prices of Scores of Issues Make Recoveries of from 5 to 10 Points

BY STANLEY W. FRENOSIL
Associated Press Financial Editor

New York.—The rally in stock prices, which started yesterday when powerful buying support was supplied by leading financial interests, was resumed with considerable violence at the delayed opening of today's market. Prices of scores of issues bounded upward 5 to 10 points at the start, and one stock jumped 75 points above the previous sale, but the wild advance attracted heavy profit-taking which quickly carried many stocks down to 12 points below the opening quotations.

Reduction of the Bank of England and discount rate from 6 1/2 to 6 per cent, which was expected to be followed by a reduction in the Federal Reserve rate after the close of the market, coupled with the statement of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., that he and his son were buying sound common stocks, and the announcement of several special dividend distributions, all contributed to the revival of confidence in the market.

The call money renewal rate was 1 1/2 per cent before the market opened.

Several favorable dividend announcements developed during the day. Directors of the Consolidated Gas Company raised the annual dividend from $3 to $4, and United States Dairy Production the class A stock. These payments were authorized by the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and the New Jersey Zinc Company, and initial disbursements were authorized on the common stocks of the National Public Service Corporation and the Bulova Watch Company.

Sharp opening advances in many stocks indicated an advance in the price of many of which had been withdrawn overnight. Auburn Auto jumped 75 points, underwood Elliott Fisher 30, Standard Gas & Electric 14 1/2, North American 14 1/2, and Atchafalaya 14 1/2.

Prices were fairly steady in the last hour trading, although heavy profit-taking had sharply reduced some of the early wide gains. Such issues as American Can, Westinghouse Electric, American Telephone & Telegraph, International Harvester, Chesapeake & Ohio Canal, Rockwell, International Telephone and American Foreign Power 15 points or more.

HOG PRICES WORK TO LOWER LEVELS

Sales Cause Market to Drop 15 to 25 Cents in Early Trade

Chicago.—(AP)—Hog trading began on a lower plane than the average for yesterday, when good gains were registered in all groups. Buyers were so different that practically nothing was done early, and what bids were ranged fully 15c to 25c lower. The best early sale was $22.50 paid for choice quality medium weight butchers. The dullness was due in part to the overstocking of the market. There were 32,000 fresh today, with 7,000 holdovers, while a week ago only 25,000 were offered. The bulge is only local, however, as total receipts for the eleven principal markets shows today's receipts $2,300 as against $7,400 last Thursday.

Cattle were looked at but not bought early this morning. The market was unusually dull. There were only 250 westerns. Trading was about steady at the start with the close yesterday, but too little was done to afford an indication of the trend for the better. Demand was good for the better light and heavy yearlings, which were so scarce yesterday. These were steady with the $15.50 and $15.75 range yesterday.

No sheep were sent directly to the packers this morning and their orders were in fair enough numbers to afford an optimistic tone. Closing prices were so weak last night that the sellers insisted upon a restoration of closer to $13.00 for their good natives. The top yesterday slipped to $12.85 for this class, and ranges stopped at $13.00.

WHEAT FALLS AFTER MAKING BIG GAINS AS MARKET OPENED

Setback Is Attributed to Heavy Profit-taking by Dealers

BY JOHN P. ROUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

Chicago.—(AP)—After making lively new upturns in price today the wheat market reacted during the later dealing and went well below yesterday's finish. The setback was attributed largely to heavy profit-taking sales on the part of recent buyers. The market at today's start showed about 15c a bushel advance from last week's bottom figures. Action of stock exchange values today had comparatively little effect on wheat prices. Late estimates today placed the aggregate of wheat export business from North America the past week at 25,000,000 bu.

Indications of big export business again today in wheat from North America did much at times to assist the rise of higher prices. Messages from St. Louis and Winnipeg were emphatic that signs pointed to large amounts of breadstuffs being taken for Trans-Atlantic shipment. Meanwhile, estimates were current that this week's wheat exports from Argentina would total only 1,470,000 bu. compared with 4,612,000 bu. the week previous and 2,175,000 bu. a year ago.

A large share of today's buying here of wheat future deliveries was credited to eastern sources. In connection with the resulting upward trend that futures displayed during much of the day, special attention was given to reports that No. 2 Northern wheat available for immediate delivery had gone to a premium at Winnipeg. There were also assertions here that North American export business both in wheat and flour is greatly in excess of the amounts which have publicly been acknowledged.

Stocks, although firm early eased later with wheat. The open interest in corn at the present time in all futures is the smallest known since official records have been kept and the market is rather easily influenced. Shipping demand here was less active today. Oats were unsettled, firmer early but reacting later with other grains.

Provisions kept relatively steady despite downturns in hog values.

CURB IS DELUGED BY BUYING ORDERS

Ticker Is Half Hour Behind After First Hour of Trading

New York.—(AP)—The curb market was thrown into confusion by one of the largest deluges of buying orders ever experienced when it opened at noon today. Opening quotations in a wide assortment of leading shares were 5 to 77 points higher, and at the end of the first hour, the ticker was half an hour behind the market.

The early gain in most instances did not hold, as they attracted quick profit-taking by traders who bought during the past two days, and in some instances about half the advance was lost, although the extent of the reaction was obscured by the lateness of the ticker.

Standard Power & Light, a highly volatile issue, opened up 77 points at 160. Electric Bond and Share jumped 29 points, United Light and Power A, more than 15, and American Superpower nearly 10. A wide assortment of utilities gained from two to ten points.

Electric Bond and Share, after jumping 20 points to 99 7/8, quickly slipped back to 90 1/2. Cities Service, after opening with a block of 70,000 shares at 44, tumbled back to 37 1/8. American Superpower, opening at 35 7/8, fell back to 30. Some of the oils displayed amazing buoyancy at the opening. Humble shot up 43 3/4 and Gulf 22 points.

New York.—(AP)—The volume of building contracts awarded in the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains for the week ending Oct. 25, as reported to F. W. Dodge Corp., amounted to $58,127,500, an increase of $5,000,000 over the preceding week. The largest single project included in the week's total was a $2,500,000 airport development in Houston, Texas.

Directors of Best & Co., at their meeting next month will consider placing the new stock, which was recently split 2-for-1, on a 2 1/2 annual dividend basis against $3 paid on the old stock. It was reported today.

The National Dairy Products Corp. plans to purchase the Brighton Place Dairy Co., of Rochester, N. Y.

New Steel business as reported today by mid-west operators, is on the upgrade in virtually all directions and November is expected to show much better results than October.

The American Smelting and Refining Company today reduced the price of its 100 lb. bars from 67 1/2 to 65 1/2 cents a pound.

The United States Steel Corporation today announced the acquisition of Columbia Steel Corporation of San Francisco.

Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today at Chicago declared an extra cash dividend of 25 cents each share in addition to the regular cash dividend of 62 1/2 cents. The extra dividend was authorized in view of the "excellent" earnings of the company this year. The company also announced it was considering to apply for the listing of its stock on the New York Stock exchange.

RESERVER FINDS NO RENUNCIATION OF STOCK BUYING

Small Gamblers Exhibit Tenacity Resisting Heavy Crash

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press

New York—There is a tenacity to the speculative fever which resists even this recent blue Monday and black Tuesday and the generally black and blue state of affairs hereabouts and elsewhere. Scouting hotels, clubs, theatres and even a Flat-bush delicatessen, just to get a composite picture, this observer finds no pious renunciation of the wickedness of gambling. There is, rather, an itch to get hold of something with which to go bargain hunting.

An Italian waiter said he had been cleaned out, but he was trying to borrow some money from his uncle to get a new start. He revealed astonishing technical information about the intrinsic values of good stocks. An usher in an uptown theatre, having lost his savings of $800, had written to his home in Cleveland for some Liberty bonds. A stenographer was borrowing money on a business loan, to protect a small margin account. There were countless such instances and rarely does one find deep remorse.

Summarized, that portion of the investing populace which lives in and around the nation's money capital is convinced that the hurricane has fanned all the paper values out of securities and it is ready to hypothesize anything it can lay hold of to wander down the bargain counters and fill its shopping bag. There were indications at brokers' offices that considerable quantities of the most grown bonds, including Liberty 4 1/4s which had been hauled out of the family sock, were in readiness, not to bolster up margins but for the golden bargain day, which everyone figures is bound to come sooner or later.

RESERVES SWEEP AWAY

There is plenty of real tragedy, story disaster, with reserve funds for education, travel, insurance, recreation and other basic family uses swept away. It would be a mistake to discount the miseries and ruin which this market crash has wrought among many thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands of families, but so far as it is observable here, there is a most astonishing resistance to hysteria, to gloom and doom and the general state of hee-hee-ies which usually follow much less disastrous upsets.

Financial experts, commenting on the fact that the crash has brought, in New York, only one slight failure, note that not only as evidence of sound business sense, but of a tough and resistant public attitude. Mixing with the crowds here, one certainly finds this attitude. It should be safe to predict that, with the slightest upswing of the market, the public—at any rate that section of it which has not been completely team rolled—will be back in line, eagerly clutching at bargains in the underpriced rails, oils and utilities.

The stir and uproar of the market crash has brought to light a legion of quack charlatans quite comparable to the "mud hens" who perch in the balcony of the old San Francisco mining exchange. These are the keepers of the actors' boarding houses in the west forties and upper thirties. Incurable gamblers, the bull market has been to them one prolonged and joyous crab game.

One rather frowsy old dame, with skirts to the ground, a rig which expert feminine onlookers characterize as a hearse, her hair in a tight knot on top of her head, a battered bonnet listing to leeward, was a few weeks ago reported to have cleaned up something like $500,000. On Tuesday she swept regally into the branch office of her uptown broker, carrying three sky's yards and laid down a line of Billings gate which left the broker looking for a seventh story window to jump out of. It seemed that the lady was a total wreck. Around these shabby old boarding houses, one may find a group of these old crones making loud financial noises. But, like all the others, they are gluttons for punishment and when the parade forms again they will be right up in front.

In the old San Francisco days, it was not unusual for one of the "mud hens" to raise such a ruckus that the beleaguered broker gave her money back. A period of unrestrained speculation was thereafter characterized as a "mud hen market." In nothing the curious hodge-podge of financial speculators which the street crowds bring out these days one thinks that perhaps this might be an apt term for this present drama.

MAGAZINE EDITORS ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Bozeman, Mont. (AP)—The marriage of Otis L. Wiese, editor of McCall's magazine, and Miss Josephine Lasher, art editor of the Forum, became known here today after they had spent a month's honeymoon on a camping trip in nearby mountains. They were married here Sept. 30 by the Rev. Friend Day, pastor of the Episcopal church. They are enroute to New York city and expect to arrive there today.

Wiese formerly was prominent at the University of Wisconsin, where he was editor of the Badger, student yearbook. He virtually stepped from graduation into the McCall's editorship.

Can't Keep Fair Ones Out of Air

The alleged weaker sex isn't showing much weakness in the aviation game, for they're doing things, just as the famous men flyers are, and doing them in a big way. Above are Bobbie Trout (left) and Elinor Smith, two famous girl pilots, who plan to hop off soon for a refueling endurance flight above Los Angeles. The cute young lady in the nifty flying suit is Elizabeth Kelly, 20, of Los Angeles, who has just won her pilot's license. Catherine Deam of Indianapolis, Ind. (lower right), has soloed after 11 hours of training and expects to get a transport license one of these days.

roads have needed to expand transportation facilities, but have been loath to borrow in high money markets. Equipment manufacturers and raw material producers have been held in abeyance.

If millions of dollars of money that has been employed in speculation comes back for business uses, an era of expansion will ensue from which many industrial corporations will naturally reap the benefit. This will not come in a few weeks but in the course of the next year as the full effect of easier money conditions is thoroughly grasped by the investors of the country.

So far as the security markets are concerned, the hope is expressed here that it will prove a cash buyer's operation. Officials who follow the trend of finance say that many of the nation's best securities are selling at low levels but that this again is no good excuse for speculation and that if only the people who have cash to buy securities bought them, the entire market situation would be on a sounder basis.

The whole official basis is alert to the seriousness of the New York market crash and there is a uniform feeling of confidence that if the conflagration can be localized—that is, kept within the borders of the speculative element—it will have no adverse consequences for business except in a few luxury lines. Imprudent purchasing and extravagance is natural with big winnings in the stock market but quantity sales are relatively speaking unaffected by the diminished purchasing power of the few thousands who have been speculating. The vast majority of the American people who buy goods on the installment plan, either automobiles or real estate or household goods, do so out of anticipation of regular income and not speculative transactions.

EXPECT SALES INCREASE

So long, therefore, as there is not only employment but promise of even greater business expansion in the next year, the prospect of increased sales and increased purchasing power is looked for by the marketing experts here. An improved agricultural situation for one thing is expected to help materially in swelling the nation's prosperity.

If the psychology of the situation requires some definite expressions from high officials or from the federal reserve board itself to assure the people of the healthful effects that may be expected from an ending of the speculative era and the beginning of a period of business expansion through low money rates, this comment will be forthcoming in due time.

Meanwhile the efforts of the banking world to stabilize the security markets are being watched and any aid that may be necessary through the operations of the federal reserve system will be given. For the days of a business panic with a shortage of currency have passed and even a violent decline in the stock market can no longer upset the normal business movement of the country.

ARTIST SERIES IN
COLLEGE REPORTS

Calibre of Talent May Have to Be Lowered if Support Is Lacking

Presentation of five stellar attractions on the Community Artist Series this year means more than another opportunity to hear talent unavailable anywhere in a single season outside of a city; it presents a definite problem to the Appleton audience.

Because Lawrence college cannot meet increasing deficits in the budget year after year, the five stellar attractions booked for the winter: The Lyric Male Chorus, Paul Kochanski, violinist, Dosolina Giannini, dramatic soprano, Musical Art Quartet, string ensemble and Vladimir Horowitz, piano virtuoso, must be presented this year in a test season.

It is this season which will determine one of three alternatives open to the management of the Series: (1) security of adequate financial guarantee, (2) Complete abandonment of the Series, (3) lowering calibre of talent.

If the series is maintained, it is understood that the same high calibre of talent booked this year will be offered. That means that failure of the first alternative will result in adoption of the second. That first alternative, based on necessity of adequate financial guarantee, can be secured only through advance sale of season tickets.

Let us examine what this year's bookings have to offer to the average layman. All numbers on the Series are holding critical review space in the leading music magazine of the country and those reviews, by hard-headed professional critics are enthusiastic. That in itself is a guaranteed guarantee of performance of the very first class.

Aside from that, the variety of material to be presented this year is so wide in scope that an enthusiast in any distinct field of music will find

UNORDERED PARCELS NEED NOT BE PAID FOR, SAYS BUREAU

Goods Sent Through Mail Without Order May Be Held by Recipient

A method of stopping the annoyance of receiving packages of unordered merchandise through the mails, with instructions to send $1 or more in payment or to return the goods if they are not wanted, is suggested by the National Better Business Bureau.

The bureau points out that this practice has been growing until it has reached such proportions as to be more than an annoyance to the recipients. The packages usually contain ties, handkerchiefs or other small articles. At the present time the firms making a practice of this kind of business are concentrating on Christmas cards.

Under the method the customer receives a package of cards through the mail. Instructions with the package ask him to keep the articles and send the amount asked, usually $1, or return the goods. Many companies will hear Paul Kochanski, with the violin as his medium of artistic expression. The Musical Art Quartet, string ensemble of solo artists two of whom have achieved international fame, organized for the purpose of presenting chamber music, will appear here Dec. 6.

Finally, the Lyric Male Chorus, under the direction of Alfred Hiles Bergen, to inaugurate the Series in Memorial chapel, Tuesday, Nov. 12, is a type of attraction never offered on the Series before. The rise of this choral group to national fame in a single season is somewhat phenomenal. This chorus of 100 Milwaukee business and professional men satisfies a popular demand and holds immediate appeal from the standpoint of art.

Season tickets for Artist Series are now on sale at Bell's Drug store.

The bureau points out that the recipient of merchandise of this sort through the mails need not return the goods if he doesn't want them, but simply has to put them aside and not use them. Customers are not legally obliged to return the goods even when stamps are enclosed for this purpose. The goods need neither be returned nor paid for, the bureau said.

The most that can be asked, according to the bureau, is that the recipient hold the unordered merchandise for return to a properly accredited representative of the sender when he calls. Further, after a reasonable length of time, the recipient might have a legitimate claim for storage charges on this unordered merchandise.

If all who receive unordered greeting cards, for instance, were to simply follow the course recommended by the bureau, they would soon cease to be pestered by having inferior products sent them, the bureau says. It is natural that these unordered greeting cards should be inferior, because the losses by this method of selling are enormous, and the recipient who pays for any unordered merchandise is paying for the cards which some other recipient neither paid for nor returned. That is why cheap cards and casts off constitute a goodly portion of such unordered merchandise.

On the other hand the local dealers in greeting cards maintain displays of cards not at Christmas only but all through the year, which makes the selection of appropriate cards for any purpose easy. Certainly common sense as well as loyalty to your home town, would lead you to prefer things of your own selection from the stock of a man who serves you at all times—and whose taxes support local schools and other institutions—rather than goods sent you without your order, with no opportunity of selection on your part.

Retail merchants are a vital asset to any city or community. Their success is essential to your city. They are the first to answer a call for financial support, whether civic enterprise or an act of mercy. Your local merchants are worthy of your support.

CITY IS IN HEALTHY CONDITION—SANDERS

Inclement weather in this vicinity for the past two weeks has not had much effect on the health of Appleton people, according to Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer.

In a city, epidemics of measles and whooping cough have resulted in the chaos in weather.

There are no cases of diphtheria, measles or mumps here, according to Mr. Sanders. Seven families are under quarantine with scarlet fever, 11 with chicken pox, and two with whooping cough, but most cases will be released within the next week or two.

CHAPTER 35
BANKNOTE DIPLOMACY

THE express next morning landed Somerfield and myself in Brussels. We took rooms at the Hotel Terminus, as we had agreed with Laxton. Having lunch on the bench and Joseph sat down, remarking that the day made very hot. Somerfield was suddenly seen to be playing idly with a pocket-book stuffed full of money.

"You know Miss Vandenessen very well, Joseph?" said Somerfield.

Joseph had that honor. Since long? Yes. Ever since the English captain's family lived in the Rue Rogier? Yes. They had lots of friends? No, only a few.

Madame Favart, whom we had had the honor of seeing, was the owner of the house; she had an affection for Madame Seabroke. And Mademoiselle Vandenessen, an institutrice at the school in Bruges where Miss Seabroke was educated. Hardly anybody else.

But there were some English people in the circle? Yes, one or two. The pocketbook opened again.

Joseph had mentioned only ladies so far. Yes, that was true; but he did not know much about the gentlemen. What he saw was that one of the two had a love affair with Miss Vandenessen—oh, very serious, he assured you. And Miss Seabroke (a second note joined the first in Somerfield's hand) interested herself enormously in this affair.

The lover of Miss Vandenessen was a tall, dark man. And his wooing—an impetuous man, this monsieur. But his friend, you could not have a cooler head—a veritable Englishman with his gray eyes that looked as if they saw behind your own, and his quiet manner of speaking.

I glanced at Somerfield. Here, indeed, we were on the track of Pell. Joseph described him exactly. But the other man—the lover of Miss Vandenessen?...

When? About three years, perhaps more. A desperate affair—the English officer, monsieur the captain, who had come back from sea to live with madame and mademoiselle in the Rue Rogier, made a scene—and such a scene. He quarreled Miss Vandenessen's lover and he quarreled the lover's friend.

Two two messieurs never came to the Rue Rogier again, and in some months afterwards the captain and his family went away. Joseph had not seen Miss Vandenessen since until that morning, and as she still remained Miss Vandenessen it would seem that the affair of the heart had come to nothing—what?

"That was all we could extract from Joseph. Perhaps it was worth the money. At any rate it had given us Pell at Brussels and an approximate date: Seabroke quarreling with Pell; Veronica with a passionate interest in a friend's love affair; a crisis in that affair. But nothing to connect with Blackwater and the tragedy at Newplaco Abbey.

"LONDON" SYMPHONY GIVEN

Londoners were deeply impressed with Vaughan Williams' "London" Symphony, which was given recently at a Queen's Hall Promenade Concert. In the 45 minutes of its rendition there was hardly a movement of restlessness among the hundreds standing in the promenade. Some critics thought that Williams took the city too tragically, that he sees it as grim and overbearing, while the gleams of kindness and jollity that shine through the clinks of his music's austerity are wistful or pathetically defiant. The ending, portraying the sleeping city lulled by the everlasting river and ghostly echoes of the Abbey chimes, is called mysterious.

BROOKLYN MAN GETS $400 ANNUALLY FOR AID TO CHARLES II

George Pendrell, Laundryman Is One of 40 Descendants of Family

Washington — (AP) — A royal haircut September 3, 1651, bulks large in the reason why George W. Pendrell, retired Brooklyn laundryman, receives $400 a year from the British crown.

It was the cavalier locks of Charles II of England which fell before shears wielded by Richard Pendrell, who trimmed the sovereign's hair to typical "roundhead" appearance.

George W. Pendrell is one of forty descendants of the ancient Pendrells who disguised King Charles and helped him escape his Cromwell pursuers, and the perpetual annual grant was established for the family after the Restoration.

Just what the Pendrell family did for the sorely pressed sovereign, fleeing after the battle of Worcester, and what the king thought of the aid is told in an old volume owned by Jacob I. Ezekiel of Landover, Md.

It is "A Pictorial History of England," by S. C. Goodrich, author of "Peter Parley's Tales," originally copyrighted in 1845, and published in Philadelphia in 1866.

Mr. Ezekiel studied the text book in school 63 years ago, and brought it to light when he read that George Pendrell of Brooklyn had marked another year in the receipt of the grant. The name is spelled Pendrell in the volume.

George Pendrell gave King Charles safe conduct. Brother Richard trimmed the king's locks and loaned the sovereign his best clothes "which were a jump and breeches of green, coarse cloth, and a doeskin leather doublet." Brother Humphrey presented the king with his hat, "an old gray one that turned up its brim."

The king first reached the home of George Pendrell at Whiteladies, twenty-six miles from Worcester. George thought he would be safer at Brother Richard's home at Boscombe, a mile distant, and saw him there.

The narrative of the escape was published in the king's name after the Restoration, says the ancient history book.

ENGINEERS MEASURE FORCES OF WINDS

Find Gusts to Be Both Vertical, Horizontal; Aid to Power Lines

Ann Arbor, Mich. — (AP) — American Indians gave names and personalities to winds, but University of Michigan engineers have set out to measure the shape of a wind.

There is a practical purpose, to learn how to build power transmission lines that will stand up against the wind forces. It is really one of the children of the four winds whose shape is wanted, namely the "gust."

The forces of gusts have been found by Michigan engineers to be both horizontal and vertical. After two years preliminary research to establish these facts, they have set up a wind swept ridge near Ann Arbor, an outdoor laboratory, a row of 11 poles spaced like an ordinary telephone line.

In the center is a 250-foot tower. From the top of this tower there is a drop of 1,000 feet to the surface of the Huron river near the foot of the ridge.

Wires are strung to the poles. Each pole carries instruments to record the stresses on wires, deflection of the poles under attack of storms and wind velocity. The tower carries platforms each 50 feet, where instruments measure automatically the vertical wind stresses.

Wires connect all instruments on poles and tower with recording instruments in a chart house, where the investigators hope the wind will leave its visiting card.

The gust is only one of many parts of wind storms, sleet, hail and snow storms which the Michigan engineers are analyzing. When all the information is compiled it will be handed over to other engineers who build transmission lines.

ALARMISTS IN FRANCE SHUDDER AT GUN SALE

Paris — (AP) — Those who fear a communist revolution were shocked recently when the Ministry of War threw on the open market enough arms and ammunition for an army corps.

There were 36,000 rifles and carbines, 13,000,000 cartridges, 50,000 bayonets and some odds and ends. Although the ministry considered the munitions too old for service, the guns would shoot. So it was provided that unless broken up for the metal the rifles must be exported.

TRIPLE WEED MIGRATION IS SWEEPING OVER IOWA

Ames, Iowa — (AP) — Three distinct migrations of weeds are occurring in Iowa.

One wave is sweeping from the southern counties northward, another is traveling from northern counties southward, and a third is advancing from the west to the east.

Horse nettle and sheafy, a weed troublesome for years in Texas cotton fields, are northern migrants. Canada thistle, quackgrass and sow thistle are pushing southward, while sunflower, buffalo burr and marsh elder are traveling in an eastward direction.

In time, marsh elder is expected to be common to all parts of the state.

POISON CASE SENT ACROSS ATLANTIC TO FRENCH COURT

One of Strangest Long Distance Cases Will Be Started Soon

Nantes, France — (AP) — One of the strangest long distance criminal processes in French history is to begin here soon when Judge Lemarchand commences an investigation of the mysterious death at Cayenne, French Guiana, of Jean Galmot, member of the French Chamber of Deputies and a member of cabinet that followed. It will be weeks and perhaps months before a finding is returned.

Thirty-three persons, charged with murder and complicity, have already been brought across the Atlantic for the preliminary "instructions" which corresponds to a grand jury investigation in America. By the irony of fate, many of them, if condemned, will return over the same route to Devil's Island, the penal colony a few miles from Cayenne.

The aroused state of public opinion at Cayenne was given as a reason for the transfer of the process to France. The passing of M. Galmot, who died of what has been certified as poisoning was followed by brawls that cost the lives of Luc Jubel, member of the Cayenne municipal council; Jean Clement, school superintendent; M. Larose, a municipal employee; M. Thebaud, former councilman and M. de St. Ives, a land holder.

Under French procedure, Judge Lemarchand will have a gigantic task ahead of him before he can turn over to the assizes court the evidence against the accused. He must personally examine and weigh the depositions of scores of witnesses and go over thoroughly the "dossier" weighing 355 pounds and which includes every shred of evidence in the case. In addition he must look over a large collection of arms of all varieties, alleged to have been used in the series of slayings.

In addition to the thirty-three accused, already in France, fourteen others, involved in minor ways with the charges, are to be sent here for trial if Judge Lemarchand concludes that the evidence against them is sufficient.

SHORT WAVE FIGHT UP TO RADIO COURT

Washington — (AP) — One of the most complicated radio controversies to be adjudicated by the court of appeals of the District of Columbia is the allocation of short waves for use by communication companies within the United States.

Six companies applied to the federal radio commission for wavelengths to dispatch public service messages, their networks to rival those of the wire services. Dissatisfied with the commission's allocation, five companies appealed to the court on the ground that the assignments were not consistent with the merits of their claims.

The Universal Wireless Communications company was granted 40 channels for the establishment of a radio telegraph system linking 110 cities. It is the only applicant that did not appeal.

The appellants are RCA Communications, Inc., the Marconi Radio and Telegraph company, the International Radio Telegraph company, the Wireless Telegraph and Communications company and the Chicago Federation of Labor.

GOLD, "AIR MINDED," FINDS FLYING CHEAP

London — (AP) — Gold is a good sailor, but an even better traveler in the air. For gold that flies loses less interest than gold carried slowly on a ship.

All of which makes it certain, say bankers in this world banking center, that whoever first succeeds in establishing regular airplane service across the Atlantic will draw a big revenue from international shipments of gold.

The flight of gold from London to Paris in the past month or two, for instance, has been literal as well as figurative.

Practically all of the bullion sent to France has gone by air. In one week more than 40 tons was carried across the channel by plane.

Not all flying gold is in the form of bullion, of course. Some of it is in the form of coins. But usually bar gold is used, each bar weighing about 25 pounds and worth about $5,500. The bars are packed in little iron-bound chests, each holding about four bars.

When there is a $5,000,000 shipment to be flown across the channel the actual weight which the planes must carry is about eight tons. Such a large shipment usually goes by special plane, but smaller consignments often go as casually as ordinary merchandise, the boxes sometimes being stowed under passengers' seats.

An important factor is the time saved by air travel. Interest on several millions is nothing to sniff at. On a shipment of $10,000,000, for instance, about $5,000 in interest would be saved if the Atlantic passage could be shortened by four days.

ST. LOUIS PUTS UNRULY STREAM UNDERGROUND

St. Louis — (AP) — A river whose floods and pollution have menaced St. Louis for years is to be placed in a mammoth man-made underground channel 13 miles long.

The city is spending $11,000,000 to create a subterranean stream, bounded by a channel of concrete and steel, for what is now the River Des Peres. Elaborate excavation machinery enables 70 men to do the work of 7,000.

The River Des Peres formerly drained an area of 110 square miles in the southwest part of St. Louis. When the sewer project is completed, the stream will be entirely dry.

Frank Walsh Will Not Return To Butte des Morts In 1930

LOCAL PROFESSIONAL IS RANKED AMONG BEST U. S. GOLFERS

Club Locker House Will Be Closed Sunday Officers Announce

Frank Walsh, for the last five years, professional at Butte des Morts golf club, will not return here next season, it was announced Wednesday by club officials. Walsh has no plans for the immediate future, but has definitely decided he will not be driving golf balls over the Appleton course next spring.

Walsh has been professional at the Appleton club ever since it was opened, coming here from Chicago. He has represented the club in numerous tournaments during the state playing season and was state open champion in 1928 losing his title this fall over his own course. During the winter playing season in the south Walsh has been entered in all the tournaments being ranked among the leading golfers in the country. He went to Honolulu last winter with a select group of golfers and expects to take the jaunt again this season. At the present time he is in Oregon competing in the Oregon open. He will compete in the national P. G. A. meet in California and then make the round of tournaments from the Pacific to Florida.

Butte des Morts officials also announced Wednesday that the locker house will be closed Sunday for the 1929 season and members should clear out their lockers as soon as possible. The clubhouse has been closed for several weeks.

Play on the course will be permitted as long as hardy golfers wish to play and as long as weather conditions permit.

TONY CANZONERI WINS BUT FANS BOO

Jackie Pilkington Also Is Awarded an Unpopular Decision

Chicago—(P)—Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion, last night won the decision over Stanislaus Loayza, of Chile, but found himself an unpopular winner.

Boos and jeers greeted the referee's decision. Loayza apparently had won the admiration of the crowd of 7,848 by his courageous stance and willingness to trade punches.

Irish Jackie Pilkington, of New York, won another unpopular decision, over Tony Herrera, Mexican lightweight, in the 10-round semifinal. In the other 10-rounder, Louis (Kid) Kaplan, former featherweight titleholder, stopped Eddie (Kid) Wolfe of New Orleans, in the first round.

Jack Dempsey, promoter of the show, announced from the ring that he had signed Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., feather-tight and Santiago Zorrilla, of Panama, to meet in the headline bout at his next show, Nov. 13.

"GABBY" STREET IS NAMED BROWN BOSS

Former Catcher for Walter Johnson Has Been Cardinal Coach

St. Louis—(P)—Charles "Gabby" Street, who caught Walter Johnson's fast ball while a member of the Washington Senators from 1907 to 1911, was named manager of the St. Louis Cardinals for 1930 by President Sam Breadon last night. Street left his home in Joplin yesterday for St. Louis to sign a contract.

The former catcher, who once caught a ball tossed from the Washington monument, has been coach of the Cards for the past season and toward the end was acting manager in Bill McKechnie's absence. He started in professional ball in 1900 at the age of 16 and was in the majors for about ten years with the Cincinnati Reds, Washington Senators and New York Yankees. Through the 1920s he has managed minor league clubs and finished out of first division only one time.

A STAGG AGAIN PLAYS AGAINST YALE ELEVEN

Chicago—(P)—After a lapse of forty years, another Stagg is to play against Princeton on the gridiron. Back in 1899, Amos Alonzo Stagg, then a star end at Yale, wound up his competition by playing against the Tigers. Next Saturday his 18-year-old son, Paul, will lead the university of Chicago team against Princeton as the maroon's quarterback.

The senior Stagg was a star end at Yale, being chosen on one of Walter Camp's earliest "all-American" teams. He weighed only 149 pounds then. His son weighs exactly the same, but is much taller than his father, who is in his thirty-eighth year as football coach at Chicago.

CHICAGO RACE SEASON COMES TO END TODAY

Chicago—(P)—Chicago racing fans today had their final opportunity of the season to view the sport on a home track, at the last day's program of the Aurora fall meeting. No feature races were on the final card.

Camera Catches Snappy Football Action

VIKINGS MAY HAVE NEW QUARTERBACK FOR HAMLINE GAME

Lynn Trankle Ran Squad Wednesday and May Be Given Chance Saturday

INDICATIONS that another quarterback will handle the Lawrence college Vikings Saturday afternoon when they take the field against Hamline university out on George A. Whiting athletic field was noted Wednesday evening when the Lawrence team scrimmaged with the freshmen.

Lynn Trankle was barking numbers during the evening's workout and there were rumors about that he will be given a shot at the job Saturday. He handled the team Wednesday evening and made few errors but of course that is not a real game. However, it is certain he won't make any more errors than were committed in recent games so more power to him.

A couple Vikings were missing Wednesday night among them Paul Miller who was reported sick. Several others played only a few minutes or didn't play at all because of injuries and the leading number of that group was Paul Fischl. Fischl has a bruised hip that bothers him running.

But Thursday evening practice probably will be called off short because of the rain and because the boys are scheduled to leave for the open for the annual football chicken dinner. The dinner is being given by Coach C. H. Rasmussen and his assistants.

WALSH COMPETING IN OREGON OPEN

Appleton Professional Among National Golfers After $1,200 Prize

Portland, Ore.—(P)—More than 100 golfers, including Walter Hagen, British open titleholder, and Dr. O. F. Willing, runner-up in the 1929 national amateur tournament, were grouped into threesomes here today for initial play in the $1,200 Oregon open championship event.

The Colville Country Club course was the setting, with 18 holes of qualifying play on the day's program. Tomorrow another 18 hole round will result in the elimination of all but fifty of the entrants. The qualifiers will go into the final round Saturday.

Among the prominent entries are Abe Espinosa of Chicago; Billie Burke of New York; Tommy Armour of Detroit; Horton Smith, the hard driving contender from Joplin, Mo.; "Lightnings" Harry Cooper of Buffalo, N. Y.; Al Watrous of Detroit, and Frank Walsh of Wisconsin.

NAME VIKI ENTRY IN MIDWEST HARRIER MEET

Three Lawrence college harriers, Frank Jesse, Charles Wolfe and Bartech, will represent the Viking school at the annual midwest conference cross country meet Saturday at Mt. Vernon, Ia. The meet is being held at Cornell college.

The three men whom Coach A. C. Denney is entering in the meet are the one-two-three men to finish in the annual all-campus cross country race held Monday. Jesse won the meet dashing around the 3.14 mile track in 13.6 minutes, considered very good time.

ST. THERESA GRIDDERS CLAIM ANOTHER VICTORY

The seventh grade football team from St. Theresa parochial school didn't play a football game Wednesday evening but it's claiming a victory over the seventh grade team from St. Mary school anyway. And incidentally the boys are shouting to the world about their latest conquest.

It appears that a game was supposed to have been scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at Third ward school grounds. But when the Sixth warders trekked over the entire city to the scene of the battle the St. Mary gang failed to put in its appearance. Well, that constitutes a victory by forfeit, and what is sweeter than a victory whether it be by forfeit or by regular game.

Flyweight Tournney To Be League Of Nation Meeting

BY JOHN J. ROMANO Copyright 1929

NEW YORK—Local fans are tumbling to the fact that Tom McArdle has lined up an unusually good card for the re-opening of Madison Square Garden next Monday evening. Flyweights have not been in the limelight in this city since the passing of punching Pancho Villa so that the miles of the ring have not been accorded much chance to show their wares in the temple of fast science. But now all that has changed. McArdle thinks he has the puncher the fans have sought and in Eugene Huat, the European flyweight, the punch has been restored in the 112 pound class.

McArdle has a regular league of nations lined up. Huat, a Frenchman, tackles Izzy Schwartz, Jewish and recognized titleholder in this state; Aliget Wolrast, an Italian, swaps punches with Johnny McCoy, an Irishman; while Ernie Peters, a Chippewa Indian, faces Speedy Dado, a Filipino and Willie Davis, a little Scotsman, breezes along with Black Bill, a Cuban. What could be more delightful than this lodge-podge of nationalities struggling for supremacy in the sacred circle? The surprise of the tournament will be Eugene Huat. The writer was present when the punching French-

PLIMCO WILL HAVE RECORD ENTRY LIST

Largest Field of Juveniles Ever to Face Barrier Will Run Friday

Baltimore—(P)—The Plimco Futurity, rich in turf lore despite only eight years of running, receives its 1929 renewal tomorrow with prospects of the largest field of juveniles ever to face the barrier fighting for the $10,000 added purse.

No faint hearted youngsters need accept the issue as the test is over the grueling mile and one sixteen's route—the longest race of the year for the juveniles of the turf. Previous to this year's renewal the race has been at a mile.

At least 40 or more than 1,400 colts and fillies eligible have shown sufficient form to justify their owners in giving them a try at the prize. Only about 20, are expected to answer the bugle call.

William Zeigler Jr.'s high-priced Spinach is the most favorably considered of this year's starting field. Mack Garner, will have the mount.

Chicago—Tony Canzoneri, New York, outpointed Stanislaus Loayza, Chile, (10); Louis (Kid) Kaplan, Meriden, Conn., stopped Eddie (Kid) Wolfe, New Orleans, (7); "Irish" Jackie Pilkington, New York, outpointed Tony Herrera, North Worth, Tex., (10); Joe Smallwood, Washington, D. C., stopped Eddie Ballatin, Chicago, (1).

EASTERN GAMES SATURDAY LACK GRUDGE ASPECT

Dartmouth Favored to Beat Yale for First Time in History

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—(P)—Many of the leading eastern football wars next Saturday will lack the grudge fight element, but the Yale-Dartmouth battle at New Haven will be a battle of it to make up for all the rest. Ever since Yale journeyed into the hills of Hanover in 1883 to beat Dartmouth by 113 to 0, the Indians have been trying in vain to corner the Bulldogs.

The closest Dartmouth approach to victory was in 1924, in the renewal of the series after a lapse of twenty-three seasons. Dartmouth entered the Yale bowl a favorite that afternoon, but had to be satisfied with a 14 to 14 draw and the first points it ever scored against the Blue. No game was played in 1925 but Dartmouth was favored in 1926 and 1927, only to see Yale win twice. Dartmouth never was dangerous in the 1928 game, which went to Yale by 13 to 0.

The net result of the series to date, from a Dartmouth standpoint, is 21 points scored, one tie and eleven defeats. Dartmouth remains a favorite to turn the tide on Saturday, but confidence at Yale is growing, and the teams may enter the bowl all even.

In other important games, Princeton, the Army, Harvard and Pittsburgh will meet foes not encountered in 1928. The Tigers have not played Chicago since that memorable super-trail on the midway when "Gambling Johnny" Gorman tossed caution and forward passes to the winds to pull out a 21 to 13 victory for Princeton after the Maroon had entered the final period leading by 13 to 7. Chicago is not nearly so strong today.

The last Harvard-Florida wrangle back in 1922 failed to stir up much commotion. Harvard would be glad to feel as sure as victory as it was on that early-November afternoon in 1922. Pittsburgh never met Ohio state, nor did the Army every clash with South Dakota.

Pennsylvania was defeated only by the Navy last year, and would be gratified next Saturday if the 6 to 0 decision of last season could be reversed on Franklin field next Saturday. Penn will enter the game with at least an even chance of turning the trick.

Duke seems to have little chance to get even with Boston college for a 9 to 0 reverse last year. New York university, on the other hand, now has the chance of a favorite to avenge the 7 to 2 reverse by Georgetown last season. Davis and Elkins apparently has a great opportunity to even up for a 2 to 0 set-back by John Carroll.

Four important games will see well-matched teams fighting to break ties played last season as follows: Columbia-Cornell, Lafayette-V. and J. Penn State-Syracuse and Bucknell-Temple. Any one of these four engagements could result in either team's favor, or in a tie, without the recording of an upset.

EAST BAYS HAVE EDGE ON SCORING

Red Daman and Wayland Becker Have 51, 50 Points Respectively

An unusual situation marks the race for high scoring honors in the Fox River Valley conference. It presents two East Green Bay high school youths, who depend on each other considerably to bring touchdowns, in a neck and neck race for the lead.

Capt. "Red" Daman, who usually is on the throwing side of forward passes to Wayland Becker that result in touchdowns, is on top in the race with 51 points, but Wayland is only one point behind with 50 points.

Daman scored three touchdowns for East against Appleton while Wayland counted the other two markers made.

Sorenson, Marinette flash, was held scoreless again at Oshkosh but still holds to third place in the race with 36 points.

Savoldi A Hod Carrier During Summer Vacation

South Bend—Truth is stranger than fiction, 'tis said, and to prove it here's the case of Joe Savoldi, stumpy Italian lad who a few days ago was nothing more than the champion brick-carrier of Three Oaks, Mich., but today finds himself acclaimed by thousands of football worshippers as the hero of Notre Dame's 19 to 0 victory over the University of Wisconsin eleven.

Whereas Red Grange was said to have been Wheaton's favorite ice man, Notre Dame's new sensation has the distinction of being the fastest brick-carrier in Three Oaks, according to Uncle John Savoldi, who seems to know what he's talking about for he claims the brick-laying championship of Michigan.

"He carries 'em so fast I can't stay with him," Uncle John proudly declared. "He loads '82 bricks in the hole, six more than other men carry, and then piles on a bucket of mortar. And when he mixes mortar he breaks all the hoe handles."

Another startling revelation made by the uncle of the "Wandering Wop" was that "Joe seldom touched water but drank wine instead."

Joe ceased his stumpy frame in regulation mole skins of the Notre Dame frosh in 1927. Last fall he took a fling at varsity football. He was of mediocre ability and completed the season, a poor one for Notre Dame, as a member of the B team.

Still hopeful, he was given a chance in the Indiana game this season. Coach Knute Rockne and his staff were impressed with the "Wandering Wop's" amazing speed. A week later he got into the lineup against the Navy, but his performance was not impressive. Rockne wondered if his play in the Hoosier game had been a flash in the pan.

But Joe proved against Wisconsin and Carnegie Tech that he was "in there to stay."

12 ORANGE HARRIERS IN VALLEY TOURNEY

Appleton high school will enter 12 men in the Fox river valley cross country meet to be held Saturday at East Green Bay. Included among the men is Warren Batley, captain of the squad who has not competed during the last couple of weeks because of ill health but who will be able to run Saturday.

Appleton, East and West Green Bay, Manitowic, and Marinette are scheduled to enter teams in the tourney. Manitowic, because of its strong showing this year is expected to win the race.

SERVICE SCHOOLS FAIL TO AGREE ON FOOTBALL TERMS

Mary Academy Insists That Its Stand on Players Be Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The prospect of a resumption of the spectacular Army-Navy football games was as dim as ever today after the efforts of the superintendents of the academies to effect compromise.

A suggestion looking to another service was made by either Major General William R. Smith of the point or rear Admiral Samuel Robinson of Annapolis, as they met at the meeting which ended in failure to agree on terms to renew the tests.

The military academy rejected three proposals made by the Navy for a compromise of the controversy over the demand that the Army abide by the rule adopted by civilian colleges for football and other varsity sports to three years of intercollegiate competition.

Football relations between the military branches were broken in 1927 because of the demand made by the Navy that the Army abide by the three-year rule.

In the conference of the superintendents, West Point reaffirmed its principle that all cadets should have equal opportunity and that any cadet competent in his studies is thereby entitled to represent the Army in any branch of sport regardless of the extent of his previous experience in intercollegiate athletics.

Secretary Good of the war department upheld the stand taken by General Smith in a statement expressing regret at the vain efforts to effect compromise.

Secretary Adams of the Navy summarized the situation from the Navy point, saying the Annapolis superintendent entered the conference on the assumption that "to an agreement both the superintendent of the military academy and superintendent of the naval academy would have to yield to some extent." The superintendent of the military academy, he added, "refused to make any compromise offers."

WHISKEY PREPARES TO PUT SOX IN RACE

Owner of White Sox Returns Conference With Bonie Bush

Chicago (AP)—Charles A. Comiskey returned to Chicago to build up for remaking his White Sox a member for the American league championship.

The first move of the "Old Roman" was to call Donnie Bush, new manager of the Sox for a conference next week to plan for obtaining material.

Comiskey spent the summer at his home in Wisconsin because of illness which forced him to retire from active participation in baseball affairs several years ago. His health apparently is improved, but not fully recovered.

Comiskey will discuss the case of Shure (The Great) Shires and it is expected the recalcitrant first baseman will be retained. Bush, shortly after he signed to manage the Sox, expressed admiration for Shire's ball-playing and said he expected no difficulty in handling the Texan. Bush also has plans for trade which he will present to Comiskey.

There's Still Sentiment In The Old Grid Game

BY LAWRENCE PERRY
Copyright, 1929

NEW YORK—In the midst of Carnegie Foundation bulletins and talk concerning football commercialization, let these two pretty little stories be placarded and taken to heart as showing that sentiment in college sport, even in the treasurers' office, still exists.

When Yale agreed to go to Athens, Ga., to help dedicate the new Stanford stadium, no contract was made. A contract for Georgia to come to New Haven this fall already existed. Across the face of this contract was merely written the words "game transferred."

And now what about the terms? So asked Georgia. We will talk about that later. So said Yale. After the game, which was attended by more than thirty-five thousand spectators at three dollars a head—Yale also will be recalled, lost that contest—Dr. Sanford went to Prof. Nettleton. How much money do you want? Nettleton said not to bother about that just then. He would write. The letter from Yale came the other day. And all that

REPORT BEHR LOST TO BADGER ELEVEN FOR PURDUE GAME

Quarterback Supposed to Be Suffering from Fractured Collarbone

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's football ship will sail out of the doldrums Saturday if hard work will move the vessel forward.

Its admiral, Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite continues to drive his men in preparation for the homecoming tilt with the rampant Purdue eleven which is headed for the Western conference championship. Last night he emphasized a defense against the Bollermaker's attack, reputed to be as strong as the nickname implies.

With Freshmen backs ripping the line for substantial gains and the yearling impersonator of the great "Pest" Welch making 7 of 10 pass attempts good, the varsity looked weak in the first minutes of defensive drill. After some little time, however, the regulars began to fathom the Purdue spinner and reverse plays, and looked better.

The drill opened with an offensive scrimmage, and the Badger varsity unfolded its running and passing attack. Lusby and Russ Reblitz played the halfback positions and Hal Reblitz was at full. Neilo Fast was at quarterback in place of Sam Behr, who was announced as unable to play Saturday. It is reported Behr is suffering from a fractured collarbone.

Ticket officials last night reported nearly 37,000 tickets sold for the contest Saturday, assuring the largest crowds at Camp Randall since the Minnesota game last fall when 42,000 saw the game.

ROCKNE GROOMING ANOTHER "HORSEMAN"

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—Knute Rockne is grooming another "horseman" for Notre Dame.

The prospect is none other than his son, Jackie, now three and one-half years old. Daily during the football season, Jackie boots a pigskin about the yard. Yesterday, he was observed kicking high ones right in his daddy's sick room.

"He's going to have the build too" remarked Knute.

ALLEGED RADIO MASTER ENGINEER IS FINALLY HELD

Wrinkle Is Something New in Kaleidoscopic Rise of Industry

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1929, By Cons. Press

WASHINGTON—William H. Holst, who called himself "Master Engineer, Federal Radio Commission," and enjoyed it for nearly a year in several cities in the east, has been detained by operatives of the department of justice.

Mr. Holst, say officials of the department, has established a new precedent in radio's kaleidoscopic rise. For, it is alleged, he is the first known impersonator of a radio official.

It is related that Mr. Holst is guilty of only minor criminal offenses, in so far as the department is aware. As "Master Engineer" Federal radio commission, it is charged that he cashed a worthless check at Camden, N. J., a few months ago, and then to have obtained the use of a private automobile for his travels about town. Other reports of Mr. Holst's activities have come before the department, but these do not enter the one case for which he must shortly stand trial at Camden.

Last May the Federal radio commission first learned of the peregrinations of Mr. Holst. In the first place, there is no "Master Engineer" of the commission. Secondly, it sort of riled the commission's chief engineer to think that someone was stealing his thunder, for he alone, under law, is charged with the official duty of eliminating the elusive heterodyne and shattering static. So the commission got suspicious and enlisted the services of the department of justice, whose agents crossed the trail of Mr. Holst in several eastern cities and just the other day apprehended him in the modest little town of Palmyra, N. Y.

FATHER WRITES LETTER

The commission's first notice of Mr. Holst came in a plaintive letter from one F. G. Seitz, of Maple Shade, N. J. Mr. Seitz didn't know whether Mr. Holst was Master engineer of the commission or radio inspector of the commerce department. But he did know that he had promised his young son a job down in Washington as a radio official, which as yet has failed to materialize.

"Will you kindly advise me if William H. Holst was employed by you in any capacity during the last year," Mr. Seitz wrote last May. "He represents himself as an inspector in the eastern district. Also advise if you received an application for a position in your department for my son, F. Richard Seitz, supposed to have been submitted by Mr. Holst."

The commission figured the job of answering this letter belonged to the radio division of the commerce department, since that agency alone has radio inspectors. But later, it was apprised of Mr. Holst's self-promotion to the rank of "master engineer, federal radio commission," and then it became interested.

In any event, the radio division notified Mr. Seitz that it never had the pleasure of Mr. Holst's acquaintance and that "no application has been received from your son for a position in the radio division."

Other information, kept in confidence by the department is to the effect that Mr. Holst inspected a few radio operations in the east and "got by" in good shape. That he knows his kilocycles was evidenced in the reports, since an individual involved in radio's rather confused nomenclature would be lost in attempting to impersonate a radio engineer.

It is made known that the department that Mr. Holst was taken from Palmyra to Camden, to await the judgment of its grand jury. Only

COTTON SHOES ARE FEATURE OF SHOW HELD AT BOSTON

Boston (AP)—New dress creations in the "cottons of 1930" will bedeck fair feminine creatures down to their very toes.

Evening gowns, sports wear, morning and afternoon dresses and pajama lounging suits were exhibited by Junior League girls and sub-debutantes at a fashion show for the convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers last night. Capping everything else in the display, however, or rather footing it, was a new experiment of the industry, cotton shoes.

In referring to the new silhouette during her introduction of the various models, Katharine Hooper, style adviser to the national association, said that a fashion that comes slowly comes more surely and lasts longer. AMERICA'S PRISON POPULATION STILL EXPANDS SWIFTLY

Everybody Will Be Behind Bars in Another 33,000 Years at This Rate

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington—Unless something is done to diminish the recent increased ratio of incarcerations, everyone in the United States will be in prison by the year 35,000 A. D.

Year by year the prisons—state and federal—are taking more and more of us away from our jobs and homes to live for awhile behind barred windows and stone walls.

In the year 1923 only 74 out of every 100,000 persons in this country were serving time in federal or state prisons and reformatories. At the dawn of 1927 the number had risen to 85 and the total number of inmates was 90,125 as compared with 81,959 in 1923.

There is a large general population to draw from, of course, but it seems obvious enough that this kind of thing can't go on forever. The figures do not include the guests of workhouses and local hoosegows.

And unfortunately they do not demonstrate whether people are becoming more lawless or whether it is only that more lawbreakers are being caught and convicted.

The Department of Commerce is responsible for the statistics, in a survey covering the prison population of the nation up to January 1, 1927.

The last full year covered was 1926. In that year 2121 prisoners escaped, which is something more than two per cent of the number imprisoned at the end of the year. But the survey reports the recapture of 1471 escaped prisoners, which is about 75 per cent of the number escaping.

Other figures indicate that a somewhat lesser proportion of women who escape are recaptured than of men.

The prison population jumped from 57,000 in 1904 to 96,000 in 1923, or from 69 per 100,000 of general population to 85. The extent of the recent increases in imprisonment is seen in the fact that whereas the 1904-1923 period saw an increase of five persons in prison for every 100,000 of population, the 1923-1927 period shows an increase of 11 per 100,000.

Of the 96,125 prisoners only 3616 were women.

Concerning the male prisoners, the Commerce Department found a proportionate decrease in the number convicted of homicide. The rate per 100,000 was 5.4 in 1910, 5.7 in 1923 and 4.5 in 1926. Convictions for rape increased from 2.3 in 1910 to 2.6 in 1923 and 3 in 1926.

Other changes were:

	1910	1923	1926
Robbery	2.6	5.1	6.3
Assault	5.5	3.2	3.8
Burglary	12.7	11.1	13.4
Forgery	3.4	4.5	5

There were five times as many persons convicted of having stolen property in 1926 as in 1910. Men imprisoned for larceny, fraud, embezzlement and possessing stolen property increased from 16.3 to 21.5.

The homicide rate for women per 100,000 of female population was the same as in 1910—three-tenths of one per cent, although it rose to four-tenths in 1923.

The number of female prisoners convicted of sex offenses, in most cases prostitution, rose from 0.8 in 1910 to 1.0 in 1923 and 1.3 in 1926.

The survey points out that in very few such cases are the defendants sent to prison.

TABULATING THE OFFENSES

There was a slight increase in the number of women imprisoned for violating liquor laws—0.3 in 1923 and 0.5 in 1926.

Twenty-one and three-tenths per cent of the men prisoners are in for larceny, 17.5 for burglary, 8.8 for robbery, 7.9 for violating liquor laws, 6.6 for forgery, 5.9 for homicide, 4.9 for assault, 4.3 for violating drug laws, 3.9 for rape and 3.3 for possessing stolen property.

Of the women in prison, 23 per cent are there for sex offenses, 10.6 for larceny, 9.9 for violating liquor laws, 5.9 for homicide, 5.1 for violating drug laws, 4 for forgery and 3.9 for assault.

Sigmaringen, Prussia—(AP)—Friedrich Victor, a 38 year old prince of a side line of the Hohenzollern family, was the cause of a recent order by the Prussian government forbidding public officials to address royal highnesses as "Highness" even in conversation. He demanded the title and had been receiving it in private until the government intervened.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germy laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with the surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Beds Now Bedecked In Variety Of Hues

BY MARGERY TAYLOR
Interior Decorator Editor, McCall's Magazine, Written For Post-Crescent

Soon about the only white looking beds left will be those which have nurses in white bending over them. Yet it is only a short time since we began to discard the idea that a bedroom, to look "clean," should have that hospital whiteness in the bedding, at least.

Many of us are still cautious, even if we are quite beyond brass knobbed beds. Pink sheets or green blankets? They're thrilling, true, but how will they "go" in the room?

This very caution is responsible for the latest in colored bedding—you can start the adventure with sheets with colored borders. And you can always begin with the guest room!

Can't you see a bedroom with cream or yellow walls, walnut or mahogany furniture—and maize sheets and blue blankets? And—a little daring, perhaps, but delightfully so—blue pillow cases!

A bedspread for such an ensemble would be happiest in either of the two colors, and might even be made of the same colored sheeting, scaled off and bound in blue.

Green walls or wallpaper with a light sprig design—then cry for orchid sheets and green blankets! A little more subdued, say for grandmother's room, would be orchid and deep blue. For the younger generation, proud of pink or peach tones in the decorations, green sheets might even bring of word of gratitude! Where the furniture is painted, sheets and spread should carefully "pick up" the color.

If your taste happens to be 18th century as well as 20th, your bedroom spread may well be a patchwork or applique quilt, a colorful candlewick spread, India print or chintz.

Washability may be achieved with linen or cotton crashes, reps, colored cotton sheetings, small patterned chintzes, ginghams, and, for the boy's room, novelty monk's cloth. If instead of homey simplicity you prefer the grand manner, there are silk and cotton damasks, lustre-rayons, rayon taffetas, silk taffetas and moire.

Sebastopol, Crimea—(AP)—Using lakes and rivers for overnight stops the Baltic fleet of military hydroplanes of the Soviet defense force has completed a flight to the Black Sea. The machines covered the 1200 miles in three easy stages. It was the first demonstration of the possibility of transferring sea planes from one Russian coast to another.

Sleep is now a "colorful" experience.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

NAHE RIVER SPA EAGERLY WATCHES RHINE EVACUATION

People Are Happy to Know Soldiers Are at Last to Be Withdrawn

Bad Kreuznach—(AP)—Of all Rhine Spas affected by the Allied occupation, none has received with greater joy the news that the last soldier of the Entente is to leave Germany than this famous river, near its confluence into the Rhine.

Bad Kreuznach before and during the war was one of the most fashionable spas in Germany. Former Kaiser Wilhelm II, his Field Marshal General von Hindenburg, and Quartermaster General Ludendorff for months made it their headquarters. Visitors are still shown the rooms in the Kurhaus in which "his Majesty" used to live and the "salon bath" in which Hindenburg underwent a radium brine bath cure.

After the war, the French occupied the town. They located their headquarters and officers' mess right across the street from the Kurhaus so that every visitor must needs see the French flag and the French uniforms. Thus, though the armies of occupation adversely affected the attendance at all spas within the occupied area, this was particularly true of Bad Kreuznach, where the presence of French troops was unusually conspicuous.

"Kreuznach will feel as though it were taking a new lease of life," Major Richard Fraunhitzer, director of the Kreuznach spa, said. "There is no doubt but that the foreign occupation has hurt us more than any other watering place in the Rhineland. Not only Germans, but also many Americans and Russians who used to come here, did not like to be in a place in which military commanders could issue orders to the population, no matter how tactful these commands might be."
